PURPLE AND GOLD

FOREWORD

Precious reader, consider: An annual is a year book; a year book is an almanac. Time was, when the bulwarks of every solid household in the New World were the almanac and the Bible, those handbooks of weather divination and divine guidance. That book of divine guidance has kept pace with a modern day better than the trusty almanac. The almanac has been neglected. It cries for rejuvenation—and we smother its cries in the depths of a kitchen drawer or in the ignominy of an indifferent wastebasket.

But those notable astrologers more widely known as the Annual Board have done their duty by the almanac at last; the yearbook you hold in your hands has been made as modern as an almanac will go, even as it reproduces the signs of the zodiac, with their meanings, in the atmosphere of that smaller universe, Morrison R. Waite High School. If you would know why the stars have made the faculty what they are today, if you would familiarize yourself with the newly-discovered Stars of the First Magnitude, if you would consult our table of Infamous Dates of History, you have only to turn the pages of this volume; the secrets of the universe will be revealed.

EDICATION

Among the many people who have worked long and earnestly for the interests of Waite is one who has so far remained in the background. Every student who has studied under Mrs. Hall can tell what a help and inspiration she has been to him. We dedicate this issue of the "Purple and Gold" to her, hoping that it may be written in the stars for her that she will always live in an atmosphere of kindness and friendship which was fashioned by her own loving deeds.

PURPLE AND GOLD

CREDIT WHERE CREDIT IS DUE

Every year after the annuals have been distributed people after looking through them say, "How much time the staff has spent to publish a book like this." But so often the same people are unaware that there has been an undercurrent of help that only too often goes unrecognized. This year the annual staff wants to acquaint you with these people whose aid has made possible many features of this book.

The credit for the pictures of the operettas and plays is due to "Northwestern Ohio's Masters of Make-Up," Mr. Faust, who graciously donated the use of costumes from his $60,000 stock and made up the characters for "Sonia" and "The Tightwad," and Mr. Eugene Miller, who made up the characters for scenes from "Second Childhood" and "The Whole Town's Talking." However, we must not forget the other pictures in the illustrated calendar section. Because who should come to our rescue when the annual was in danger of going to press without snapshots, but our old friend, Mr. C. E. Collins.

The annual staff also wishes to express their appreciation to members of Miss Carpenter's classes and especially to the following people who have contributed drawings: Margaret Dean, Carl Payden, Virginia Hardy, Elsie Ruth Jackson, Max Conrad, Florence Neuderfer, Dorothy Cotner, Herma Overmeyer, Grace Eckhart, Virginia Shafer, and Esther Carl.

Often we have students who volunteer their services on either the business or the editorial staff, but seldom do we have a helper energetic enough to work on both. So, hats off to Chester Lannen.

And here's another one who has done his part on the book. How many times have we interrupted Mr. Keller when he was busy with some of his innumerable duties. He has always dropped them to fulfill our request uncomplainingly.

Through the courtesy of the Forhan Tooth Paste Company the annual was able to use horoscopes for the faculty prepared by Evangeline Adams.

Since the "Purple and Gold" is published by the senior class it is not infrequent that the staff is forced to consult their advisers, Mrs. Allen and Mr. Mathias, whose sage advice is greatly appreciated.

Last, but not least, we must not forget our own publication board, which includes Mr. Conser, Miss Hart, Miss Carpenter, and Mr. Combs. The "Purple and Gold" staff wishes to take this opportunity to thank them for their invaluable aid.

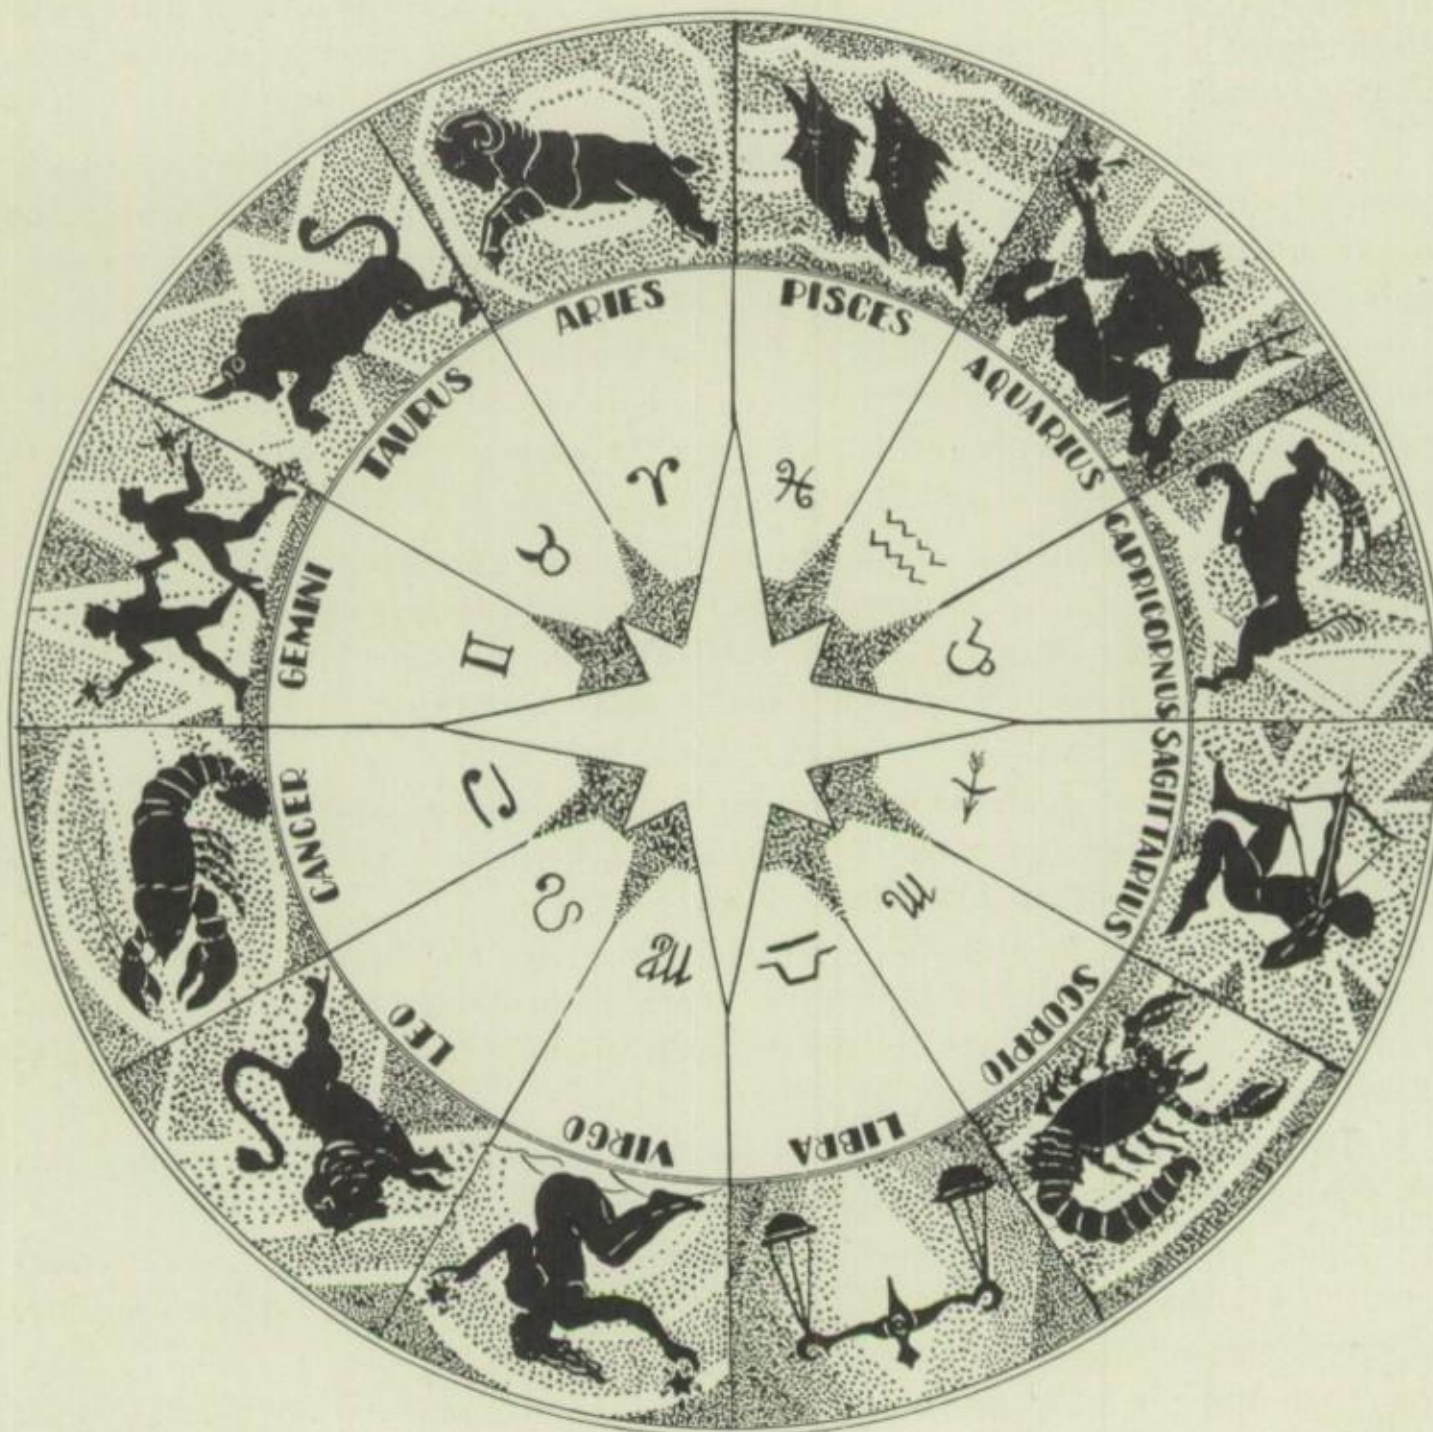

So, friend reader, let's not forget to "Give credit where credit is due" when reading this book.

The "Purple and Gold" Staff.

- Sept. 1930
- 8 Freshmen cry—for Castoria?
 - 9 Those disheartening pencil schedules!
 - 10 Oh where, oh where can my locker be?
 - 11 We hear that everyone has a line, even the bookroom.
 - 12 We get down to brass tacks and nail our first assignments.
 - 15 Seats in the study halls are held at a premium.
 - 16 Those tiny freshmen tots! Will they ever grow up?
 - 17 Season football tickets make their appearance.
 - 18 Our first pep meeting under the new flood lights. More fun!
 - 19 We get settled at last and make our ink schedules.
 - 20 We begin the football season O. K. and initiate our flood lights. Waite 14, Royal Oak 0.
 - 22 We adopt book labels.
 - 23 The Hi-Y shows the Frosh boys a sample of Waite's good times.
 - 24 Everyone got a Retina. They were free!
 - 25 We have a boys' cooking class; evidently, they have no faith in can-openers.
 - 26 Another night game. There were a lot of (k) nots left undone, so it was a tie. St. John's 12, Waite 12.
 - 29 We are still electioneering for our favorites to fill the Junior and Senior class officers.
 - 30 We elect class officers and what an election! It was mighty close!
- Oct. 1930
- 1 Some Frosh are still inquiring about an elevator—we do need one.
 - 2 Hot Dogs! We wondered what was in the air. The Scarabs are having a roast.
 - 3 Warren Keith renders "St. Louis Blues" in the Q. D. mass meeting.
 - 4 Another night game, and Englewood turned the tables. They 14, We 0.
 - 6 We wonder—are the Seniors sick? Such worried faces!
 - 7 No wonder—they took a state test today!
 - 8 Didja ever C it fail? Unsats!
 - 9 The Retinas were one day late, and they weren't free!
 - 10 The Zets initiated their new "Pin Song" in the mass meeting today.
 - 11 Nothing from nothing leaves a close game. Garfield 0, Waite 0.
 - 13 Cold weather is approaching; the girls are letting their locks grow longer.
 - 14 Line up for suckers on your right. Frosh Girls' Mixer.
 - 15 We'll see more fish about Waite. The swimming pool opened today.
 - 16 The Q. D. are beginning to plan for their annual game with the Forumites.
 - 17 The Forum gave us their conception of playing a modern football game—with telegraphy. Roosevelt 24, Waite 0.
 - 20 All the former Zet and Peri pledges are here today; evidently, initiations last Friday weren't so bad.
 - 21 Oh! How we go for those new Peri jackets!
 - 22 We hope that Murphy's shoulder will be O. K. for the Findlay game.
 - 23 The Scarabs gave us an Egyptian mass meeting—their first, and they made a good start.
 - 24 Our first day off is our life saver. (Not the "nickel a package" kind either.)
 - 25 Findlay gave us what was coming to us. They 21, We 0.
 - 27 Dr. Barker, in his speech, encouraged us to lick the daylights out of Scott.
 - 28 "Tiddlywinks" seems to be a popular sport of the Forum pledges.

- 29 The Boys' Cooking Class entertained the football team with a luncheon; we hope for no bad effects.
30 Are the Q. D. pledgers coming or going? They're dressed backwards!
31 Green jumpers! We mean the new Zet distinctions—not the Zets themselves.

- Nov. 1 Do you suppose Woodward feels differently now? They 21, We 0.
3 It seems Toth's leg is getting there O. K.
1930 4 The Q. D. jackets are keen—so think the girls.
5 We are all gummed up with free football stickers.
6 Dedication of the Shakespearian Mural which was presented to us by the 1929-30 Student Council. Thanks.
7 Girls' "W" Club gave "The Walkaway" this aft.
8 It's about time, isn't it? Waite 14, West Tech. 0.
10 Where have the class rings of most of the senior boys gone?
11 How thoughtful! The girls are merely keeping the rings so the boys won't lose them.
12 Ah! The returning of proofs of all senior goofs.
13 The Forumites sport their new distinctions, swagger—we calls 'em.
14 "Once in a Blue Moon" our grade cards come out, and oh! (?)
15 We went over to Libbey, and look what they did to us. They 27, We 0.
17 Some have such taking ways in the library. "Deerslayer" is gone.
18 It's getting chilly; not so much rumble-seat riding.
19 A book-guessing contest in this issue of the Retina.
20 Mass meeting today. Great prospects for the Scott game.
21 Movie today; "Peg of the Secret Service." We furnished our own talkies.
24 "4-ums" are still celebrating their victory, last Friday, over the Q. D. "Cuties."
25 First snow of the year. We hope it lasts.
26 It didn't. The Peries gave us a good mass meeting.
27 Thanksgiving. Scott beat us only 19-2, but the Varsity dance made up for the loss.

- Dec. 1 'Most everyone has recovered from Thanksgiving feasting.
1930 2 We advise a radio for the Junior and Senior study hall to keep certain people awake.
3 A cute little hound bounced up and down the halls today.
4 We were introduced to the characters in
5 "The Tightwad"
8 We all feel the same on Monday—Blue!
9 Our parents came to school, played cards, and ate pancakes and sausage.
10 We wonder—WHY Leslie Miller is cutting his wisdom teeth.
11 The Scarabs get the banner for the best mass meeting. Congrats.
12 Basketball comes in with a shoot, or, shall it be shots?
15 We wonder if the Frosh have mailed their lists to Santa Claus yet. If not, they'd better hurry.
16 We've been most good; how long will it last?
17 The Annual Board is still plugging away.
18 "Oh, Give Me Something to Remember You By" seems quite a hi(n)t. It's near Christmas!
19 Hurray! It's Friday today, and tomorrow's Saturday!
20 The Zet "Snowball"; Santa Claus (?) treated those who attended with popcorn balls.
22 We help the needy and contribute baskets.

Don't you like the tree on the second floor?
23 Lads and lassies are parting.

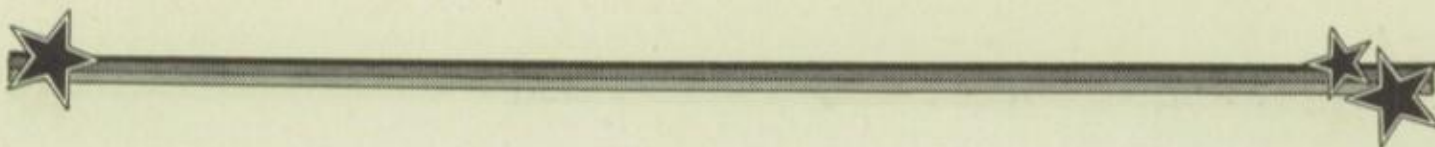

Jan. 1931

- 5 "Blest Be the Tie That Blinds" seems to be the "ode" or rather "oath" to the new Christmas ties.
6 Seniors and Juniors stayed in Home Room today; yesterday they were entertained by the Oberlin Glee Club.
7 Mm-mm. Certain Junior and Senior boys are sporting those cute corduroy trousers. (Was it Santa?)
8 The Sophs allowed their galoshes to flop open.
9 Each "Lit" meets again after the holidays.
12 Revival of learning for our exams. (Personally—BOOH!)
13 Why the crowd around the Trophy Case? Junior rings are displayed!
14 For shame, R. Ringeisen! What hast thou done to thy nose?
15 The new wearers of the Varsity "W" seem rather chesty.
16 No school tomorrow! Why? Tomorrow's Saturday!
19 Juniors chose their favorite ring.
20 Let us pray for one another. Exams commence!
21 More Blue Books! Then a vacation to forget what we have learned.
26 Another day, another semester, another start. Let's go!
27 From one class to another hither do we go, but whither shall we stay?
28 We are settled at last; we made out ink schedules today.
29 I'm glad it's Thursday, 'cause that's one day closer to Friday.
30 They're still looking out for those hall permits.

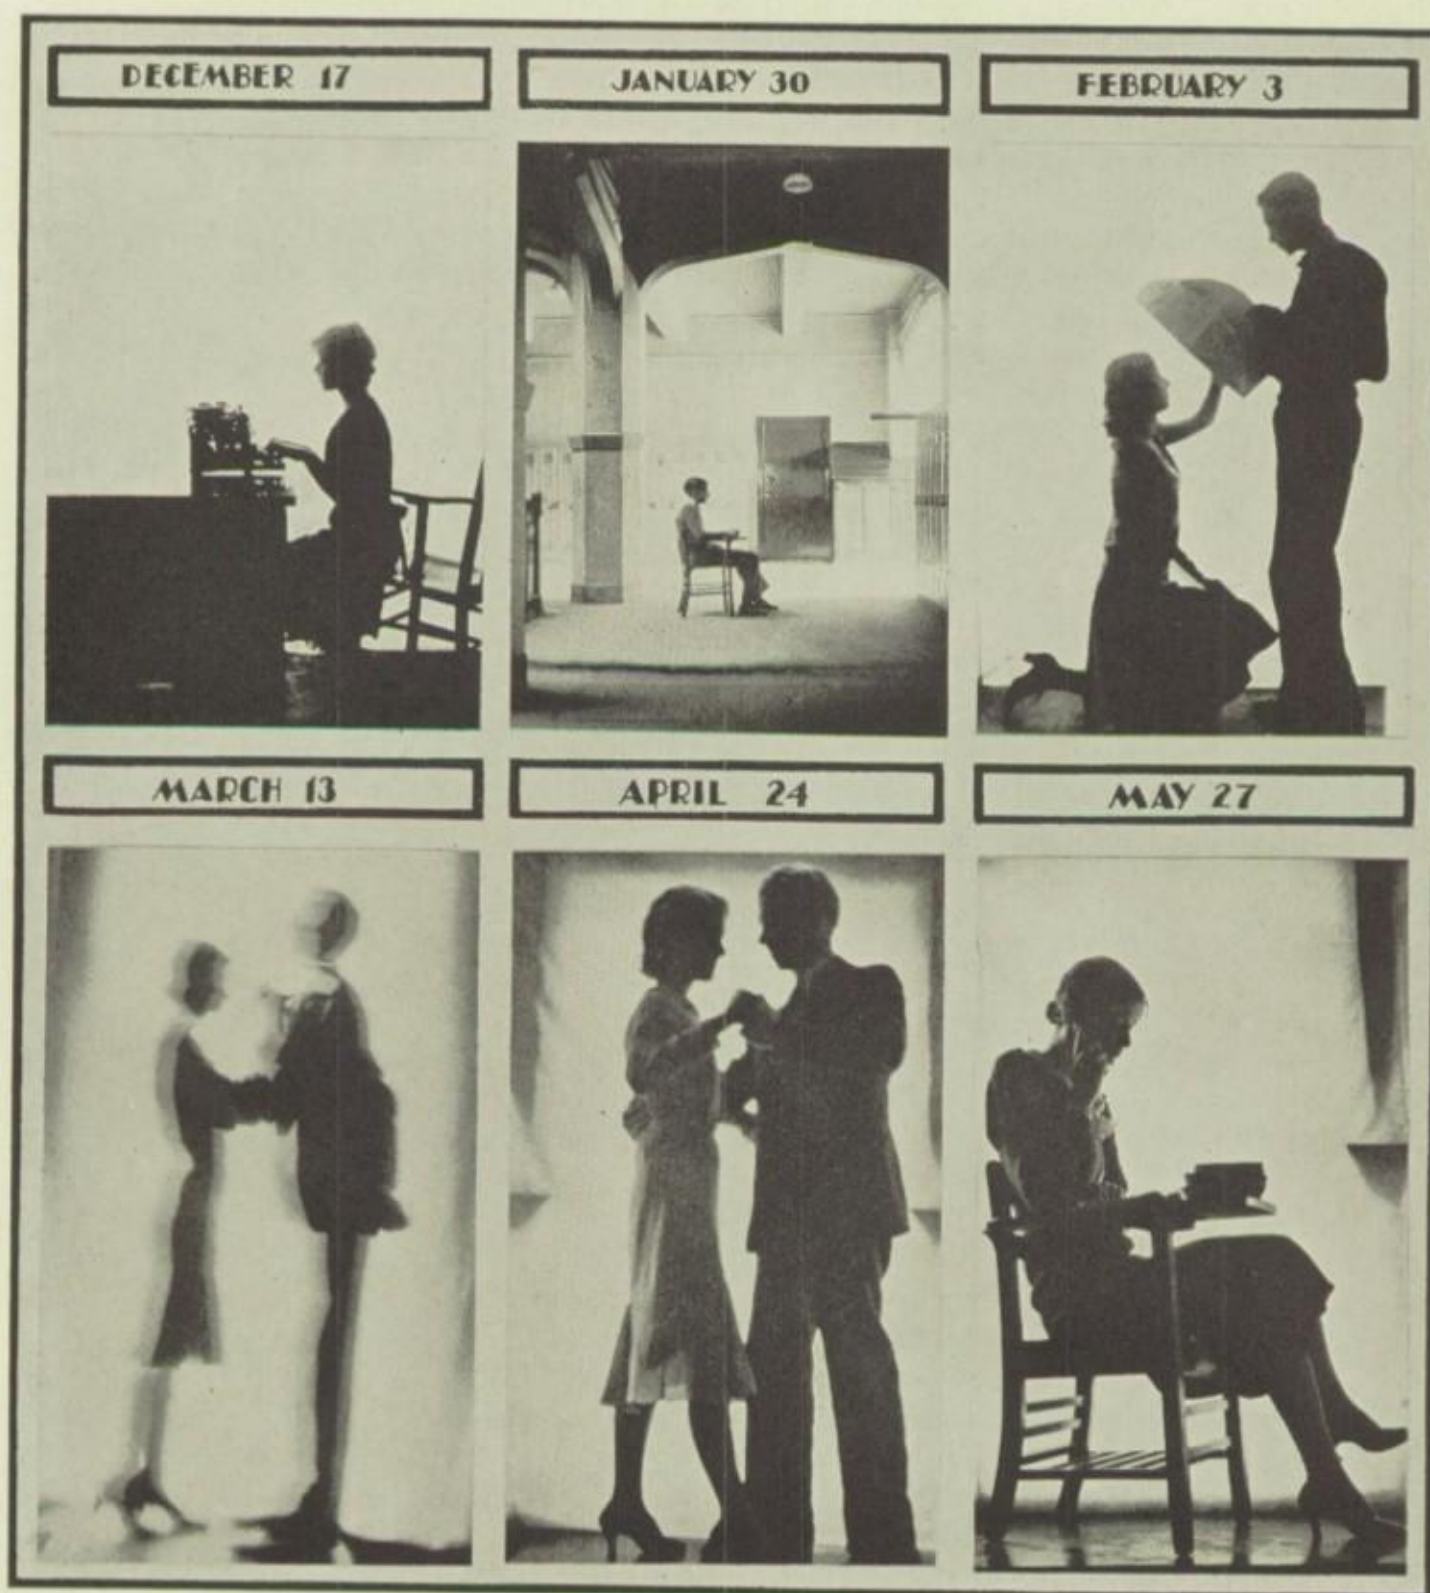

Feb. 1931

- 2 We commence the new type of lunch period.
We wonder if the ground hog saw his shadow.
3 The new Retina staff has just brought out its first edition. It certainly was a spicy one, if seeing is believing.
4 Dumb—but mighty happy!
5 The Zets and Peries held their annual joint spread.
6 The "Alchemy Amble" seemed a huge success.
7 Juniors step out and hop.
9 Senior Class Prophets and Class Historian were announced today.
10 The Waite High International Club, recently formed, is holding its own.
11 Various clubs got "shot."
12 Lincoln's birthday! We appreciate it (the holiday!)
13 O-O-O-o-o-oh! Watch your step! 'Tis Friday, the thirteenth!
14 Peri Bridge.
16 We are requested to report to the auditorium tomorrow.
17 We did! We are starting a magazine selling contest.
18 What price education! So many on the Honor Roll in the Retina!
19 We envy the Seniors! They're always reporting to the auditorium.
20 The Juniors are given tickets to sell for the Junior play.
21 The Glee Club presents "Sonia."
23 We get off for Washington's birthday. We don't regret it.
24 Three cheers for the person who invented three-day week-ends!
25 Just another chilly day and lots of wind outside!
26 The Juniors held another class meeting during Home Room.
27 The characters in
28 "Second Childhood" made their bow to us.

- 2 Woe is me! A month with no holidays!
- 3 March came in like a lamb. She may fool us!
- 4 Annual staff was announced in today's Retina.
- 5 The Student Council sponsored an exceptionally fine Orchestra Concert this morning.
- 8 "Ecstasy Glide" was sponsored by the Commercial Club this aft.
- 9 March has surprised us! We trudged to school this morning in snow!
- 10 It's still snowing! On the installment plan!
- 11 Sneeze unto others as you would have others sneeze unto you.
- 12 Juniors were measured for their rings. Some will be watch-charms, and others, bracelets.
- 13 Junior group pictures were taken by the professional photographer while the amateur photographers of the Annual staff experiment with silhouettes.
- 14 The Q. D. "Caberet" did not fall short of its name.
- 16 Groups of Sophomores and Freshmen were snapped today by the photographer.
- 17 No! All those wearing green are not Frosh; they're Irish!
- 18 The Student Council is bound to have another mural for second floor; they sponsored "Ramona," today, to raise funds.
- 19 We extended a hearty welcome to our new coach, McCallister, who is here for the spring football training.
- 20 We jiggled around at "The Irish Jig" given by the Junior Friendship Club.
- 23 McCallister must be pretty hard; the boys are limping. Too bad!
- 24 One week from St. Patrick's Day; Donna Campbell's still wearing green!
- 25 Spring is coming! We feel it in the air, also in the class rooms!
- 26 Girls were excused from sixth hour for a Style Show in the Auditorium.
- 27 Cold cats! Vacation is here, and I don't have to write this for a week!
- 28 The boys took their "Flames" to the Forum "Red Hot Hop."

Apr. 1931

- 1 Now we know what we are!
- 7 Oh, come all ye faithful! Back again for more learning!
- 8 Easter eggs in lunches!
- 9 We were interested in "Rejuvenating Sally" tried and done by the Friendship Club.
- 10 The final girls' basketball game; Seniors won, Juniors have next year.
- 11 The Peri Lit Dance was rather in the dark, "Le Bal Moderne."
- 13 Angels and Ministers of Grace defend us; our cards and oh! How they reported.
- 14 Ah-h! A chance to use our Christmas umbrellas!
- 15 Gordie Thayer wants to be a pitcher and not a tumbler!
- 16 The end of the week approacheth and we rejoiceth.
- 17 The whole school's talking because
- 18 "The Whole Town's Talking," sponsored by the Waite Athletic Association.
- 20 More rain! We needed it; it cleared our brains, washed them off.
- 21 Our Varsity Golf Team played "Pasture Pool" today.
- 22 The Alpha Chapter of Zets of Waite entertained the Beta Chapter of Libbey.
- 23 The Retina and Annual Staffs gave a Minstrel Show, today, during Home Room.
- 24 Scarab Skip, sponsored by the Biology Club, drew a large crowd.
- 27 We begin our annual Community Chest drive.
- 28 The last of the "1492's" is gone! Mr. Severance got a new Ford.
- 29 Mr. Nat Smith of the Woolson Spice Company spoke about "Salesmanship" to the Commercial students.
- 30 Annual Zet Peri basketball game.

May 1931

- 1 May Day and a 3 o'clock Dance! The first dance a sophomore class ever sponsored.
- 4 The plaintive strain of "Gooley, Gooley, Gooley" oozes from the Annual Board.
- 5 They warble as they mount—pictures, with loudly scented rubber cement.
- 6 More fun! Buster Keaton made us laugh in "College", movie sponsored by our council.
- 7 Seniors were measured, today. Kenny Holland ran up a step-ladder to measure himself.
- 8 We made the acquaintance of "The Lady of the Terrace", through the courtesy of the Glee Club.
- 9 Seniors walk off with their farewell dance to Waite, the Prom.
- 11 Jeanne Forrest and Betty Kern chase little pills around the grass and call it golf!
- 12 We took "The Train to Morrow", today, with the Hi-Y boys.
- 13 The Juniors have their day, and get their rings at the Mixer.
- 15 We dig out our summer duds!
- 18 Seniors acquire bright and brilliant raiments for "stepping out."
- 19 Eugene Everett confesses he is absent-minded.
- 21 Ella May's favorite cry and wail seems to be "Where's that Purple dummy?"
- 22 Several weeks closer to decease, Seniors.
- 23 Seniors feast and make merry for the last time, at Lasalle & Koch's.
- 25 On the last lap!
- 26 No lessons, no sympathy, no nothing!
- 27 "I spent five hours on my Latin," we wail. In truth, we did; but we dropped off to sleep after the first two.
- 28 Our annuals come out and we start the battle cry, "Sign mine."
- 29 Seniors go "Bye-bye" to Put-in-Bay in the big boat "Greyhound."

June 1931

- 1 Only 11 more days, Seniors, and you'll soon be "ex's."
- 2 The teachers do bark,
And we do hark,
For exams are coming to us.
- 3 We nearly perish—this heat and exams—we hope we pull through.
- 4 Jams—not razzberry, but blue book.
- 5 We take inventory on our lockers.
- 7 Senior Baccalaureate services were held today.
- 8 Say—thanks for reading this.
- 9 P. S. to June 8. I wanted someone, besides myself, to read it.
- 10 "Tramp! Tramp! Tramp! The Seniors are marching!"
- 11 The "Five-and-Tens" are overcrowded. Ex-seniors need jobs!
- 12 Seniors received their coveted documents.
To leave you, Waite, makes us sad;
To have been with you, makes us glad.

SUN GOD

The Sun God is the source of the illumination of all our ways. Indeed, all the phases of his dependent world rely upon his assuring rays to bring them to a favorable destiny.

Sometimes, however, when the Sun God is angry, he withdraws his light behind the clouds; but when he is pleased, he beams in magnificent splendor.

Mr. Conser is a friend to everyone, the Sun God of our universe.

PURPLE AND GOLD

MISS JOSEPHINE GOODALL

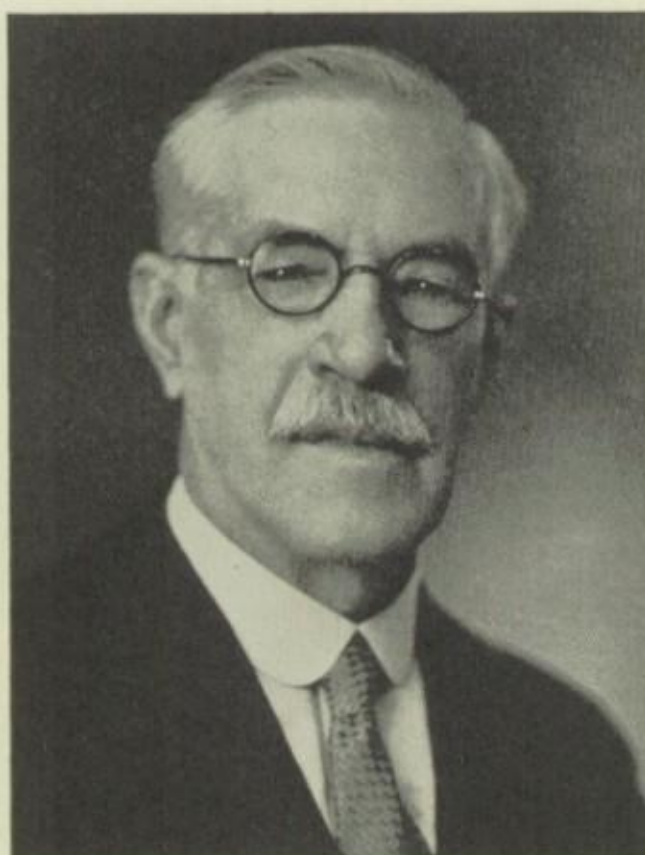

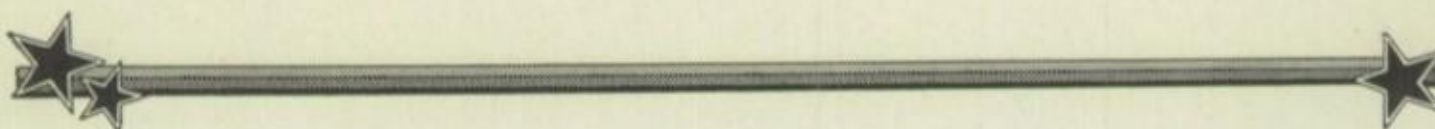

MOON GODDESS

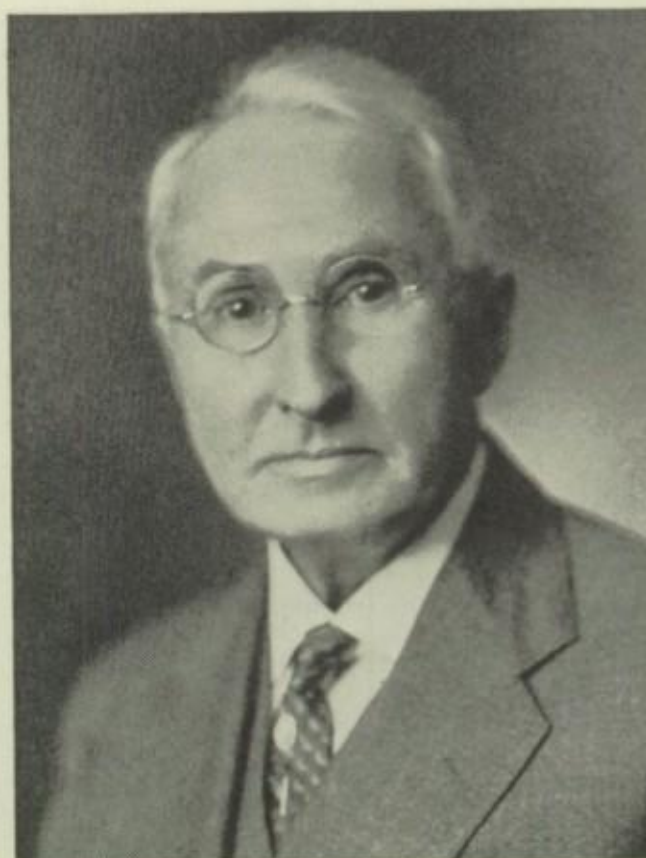

When the beams of the Sun God are hidden by a depressing horizon of the Olympian twilight, the Moon Goddess rises into the faded sky. With her bright rays of light she quickly disperses the clouds of doubt and dispels the darkness of night.

A pleasing personality, convincing honesty of purpose, and a sincere willingness to help, make Miss Godall an excellent Assistant Principal. She is truly a shining light in Waite.

MR. M. B. SEVERANCE

The Pointers

Waite's sky of stars, too, has its pointers, pointing the way to the big dipper from which freshmen and upperclassmen alike may drink deep of the secrets of the ages. Ageless as the stars themselves, undimmed in brilliance, they meet their seventieth years with the keen enthusiasm of youth. Retirement brings them no infirmities, no discontent, no prospect of idle uselessness, no sense of having finished with life. Vigorous men of seasoned judgment, they look forward to mellow years of rich satisfactions, richly deserved.

Like the Greek mathematicians of old, Mr. Stuart sat at his desk in Room 112. Brusque, crisp, rugged, straightforwardly honest, scornful of mediocrity, impatient with sluggards, this New Englander of the clipped gray moustache taught more than mathematics; he taught clear thinking, that lesson which today's world needs more than any other.

Seniors on the verge of graduation sought his aid; underclassmen were guided and encouraged by him to attain the higher ideals in life; and the players who were coached by this ex-National Leaguer in the earlier history of Waite's baseball activities always paid him due respect.

Now the teacher is gone, and his room is changed, but memories still linger with the students who learned of him their first lessons in logic.

This year marks the termination of Mr. Severance's career at Waite, but not the termination of his influence. It is difficult to picture third floor without the familiar white-haired figure moving with benevolent, patriarchal dignity among the freshmen, who, under his kindly guidance, have gained new standards of worth and character by precept and example.

A natural psychologist, Mr. Severance knows each whim and fancy of freshmen; he makes no compromise with wrong, but he has not forgotten that he was once a boy.

Must we bid Mr. Severance good-bye? Then let it be with the reminder that he holds a particular corner in the hearts of those who know him and love him as the Father of Waite.

THE COMPASS

Centuries and centuries ago, during the time of the great Renaissance, a most valuable aid to navigation was discovered, the compass. On many a stormy day it guided to a safe harbor many a wearied ship which had desperately braved the storm.

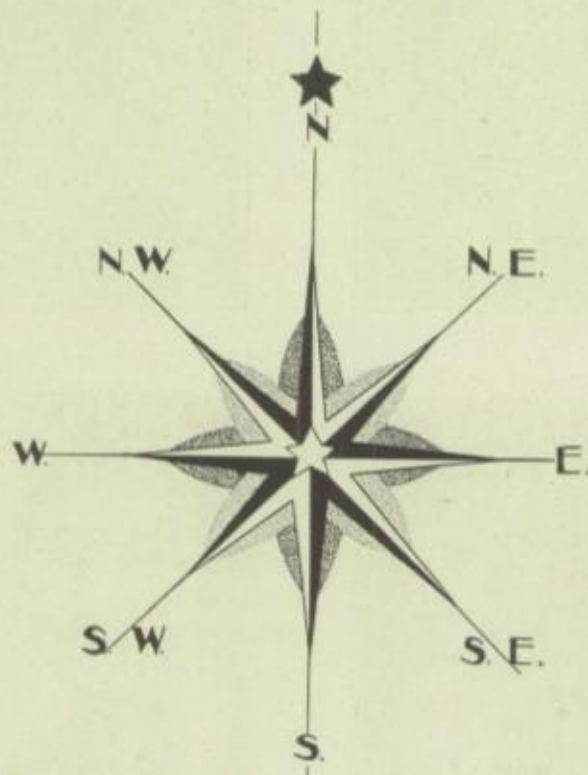

As we embarked upon the sea of Education under the heavens of Waite, we, too, were guided by a compass—

the office force. They not only steered us from the rocks of Doubt, but also sounded that warning bell which brought us safely and punctually to another port.

So pointing ever to the bright North Star, the compass of Waite guided us through the Straits of Confusion to that ever happy and much-sought harbor—Graduation.

Birthdays of Famous Men and Women

March 21-April 23 -- Aries, the Ram

MR. E. W. COMBS

Your mind moves rapidly. You do not care as much as you should for order. You are by birth a pioneer, a leader of men. Fear nothing—you are a son of Mars.

MISS FAY MARINE

You have natural executive ability, but to get the best results you should learn to plan your work. You possess courage, energy, and strength to fulfill your highest destiny.

MRS. PAUL SHAWEN

You were born under the fiery, dauntless sign Aries. The sun gives honor, prestige, position, power. Mars gives courage, energy, strength. Guard against being too dictatorial in your relations with men.

MISS NELLE WALES

Your disposition should attract friends of both sexes, especially the male. You are naturally generous and kind. You are a leader. You should have a happy home life.

MR. WILLIAM MOFFATT

You have a warm, loving nature—a bit to impulsive, perhaps, a bit too over-ardent. You have a place in your heart and mind for poetry and art.

MR. E. C. FANKHAUSER

Aries men like to start things. You should be a leader of men were you not intent on clowning. Your speech is witty, sometimes cynical. Yours is an intense, fervent nature.

Birthdays of Famous Men and Women April 23-May 23 -- Taurus, the Bull

MISS E. BUMGARDNER

You are exceedingly fond of the comforts and luxuries of life. You like the beautiful in form or color. You were not meant to go through life without love.

MR. M. B. SEVERANCE

You have tremendous vitality, physical and mental; and this quality, combined with persistence and a dominant will, makes it possible for you to accomplish anything on which you set your heart.

MISS BARBARA G. SPAYD

For a lady whose flower is the modest trailing arbutus, you are amazingly firm. You may ask for advice, but you will thank the giver gently—and go on doing just what you had planned to do.

MR. R. G. C. BROWN

You have a romantic disposition, a strong imagination, and a great love of pleasure. You will find favor with women of position and influence. Develop a willingness to change your opinion.

MR. JESSE STEINER

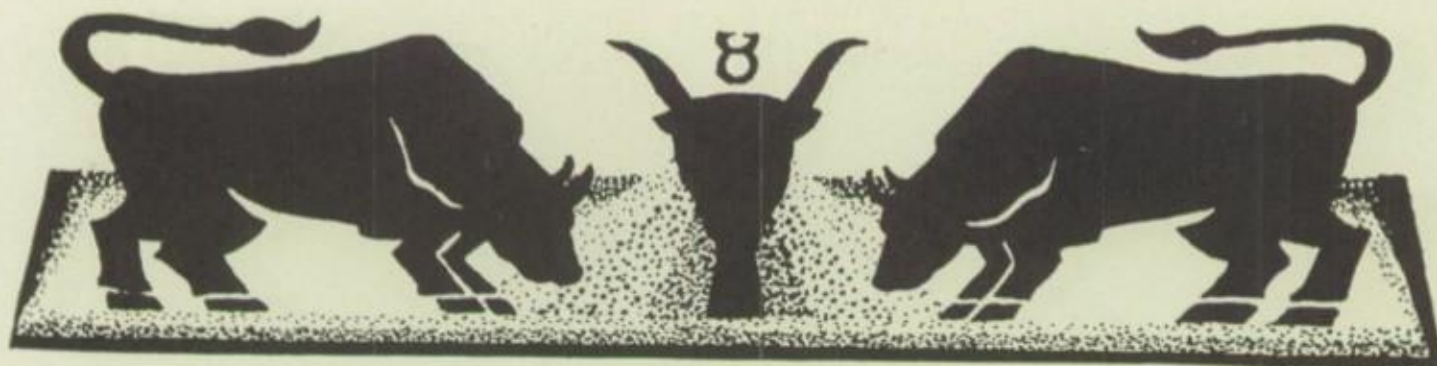

Venus and the Moon were both dominant when you were born. You may do well as a journalist or public entertainer. You would also be successful in business having to do with liquids.

MISS MILDRED MORGAN

You are a doer, not a dreamer. You could combine your practical and artistic tendencies in something like interior decorating.

Your flowers are the violet, the lilac, the narcissus and daisy.

Birthdays of Famous Men and Women Other Taurians

MISS MATILDA ADAMS

You appreciate good food and good living. You will do well as a journalist or public entertainer. Your stones are the opal, the moonstone, the carnelian, and the coral.

MISS MARIE STOLL

You mustn't become too serious and introspective. You have the warm, affectionate Taurus nature.

Your flowers are the violet, the hyacinth, the daisy, the cowslip, and jonquil.

MISS MILDRED PASCH

You are practical, persistent, and tenacious. Taurus makes for a happy domestic life. You have a warm, affectionate nature and the Venus charm to attract and hold men.

MRS. L. L. CANFIELD

You, too, have a romantic disposition, a strong imagination, and a great love of pleasure. You will meet with success through travel. Taurian women are excellent homemakers.

MR. R. E. OSBORNE

Do not let yourself go too far in either hating or loving. You have a Taurian vitality and the strength to come to victory through trial.

MRS. DELIA FORTUNE

You have excellent memory and insatiable curiosity. Learn to use these gifts wisely. You have a generous disposition, humane impulses, and ability to rise to great heights.

Birthdays of Famous Men and Women May 23-June 22 -- Gemini, the Twins

MISS LOUISE NELSON

Jupiter will give you happiness, success, social position, and an honored place in your community or group.

Your flowers are the lily of the valley, the myrtle, and the bitter-sweet.

MISS CHARLOTTE PAGE

You have extreme versatility, and a highly developed mentality. You love to have comfort and beauty about you.

Your flower is the lily of the valley; your stone, the emerald.

MR. FRED MATHIAS

Gemini men succeed as brokers, bankers, lawyers, and diplomats. Your sign is the twins. Be careful that you are not a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. Your mate has been born under Libra.

Birthdays of Famous Men and Women June 22-July 21 -- Cancer, the Crab

MISS MILDRED BURNS

You have a praiseworthy tenacity of purpose which should be cultivated. You have a strong sentiment for the past; you treasure heirlooms and esteem pedigrees. You crave adventure.

MISS MEREDITH YOUNG

You have a natural gift for domestic science, for nursing and caring for children, for chemistry and for any activity connected with food. The sense of mystery and romance is strong in you.

MISS LULU F. HOWARD

Your standards are ambitiously high, and you are as unsparing of yourself as of others in your insistence upon achieving perfection. You are a demon for work—and you are rich in friends in spite of and because of that fact.

MR. GEORGE CUMMINGS

Men born under Cancer often rise to positions of great prominence. You should possess a strongly imaginative mind, keenly appreciative of learning and travel. You will win fame or fortune.

MISS M. GRIFFITH

You have a good nature and a desire to please. A Cancer woman loves one man until she dies. Try to overcome that inordinate sensitiveness of yours. You suffer needlessly.

MR. FRED KLAG

You are under the influence of the Moon and a lover of travel, adventure, romance, and the occult. You will gain public recognition, especially from members of the opposite sex.

Birthdays of Famous Men and Women July 21-August 21 -- Leo, the Lion

MISS MOLLY BUTLER

You have self-confidence, initiative, and determination. You despise that which is petty or underhanded. You will dominate people, but don't let them know it. Love is your kingdom.

MR. LARSEN WAGNER

You are a strong, forceful man, aspiring to command and capable of exercising it. You should rise above the ranks. Your most congenial mate may be found under Aries or Sagittarius.

MISS KATHRYN NEWBIRT

You should succeed at home and in foreign countries. You should win great victories in love. Your flowers are the marigold and the peony; your stones, the diamond and ruby.

MISS FLORENCE REES

Don't let your ambition, which is great, make you discontented or unhappy. You cannot win in everything. The stars have given you great gifts.

Your colors are blood red, orange, and scarlet.

MR. GEORGE PEARSALL

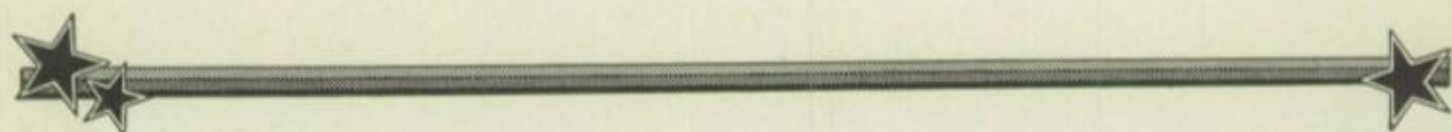

You have a magnetic quality about you. Don't waste it on letters, telegrams, or long distance communication. Put your hat on and go and see anybody you wish to influence.

MR. CLARENCE BALL

You hold fast to traditions of the past. You must acquire self-confidence somehow if you are to fulfill your greatest destiny. You should succeed as a sailor—perhaps singing chanteys.

Birthdays of Famous Men and Women August 21-Sept. 23 -- Virgo, the Virgin

MISS ELAINE HIRTH

You have a justifiable pride in your own abilities, but you are not conceited. You have an inventive turn of mind. Your colors are green, yellow, gold, and black.

MISS ETHEL JACKSON

You love the theatre. A lively curiosity about stage and private personalities is coupled with keen observation. You are strong for system in everything.

MR. HAROLD ANDERSON

You have a reputation among your friends for clever sayings. You can come back from any experience and tell every detail of what happened. Show your emotional side more.

MISS MARION HART

You are an agreeable person, genial, vivacious. Your conversation should be colorful, perhaps brilliant. You love mechanical devices, not alone for what they will do, but for the fun you have operating them.

MR. J. C. COLLINS

Your aspects are favorable for acquiring property, but your greatest reward will come through popular acclaim. You have a good mind and the powers of observation and invention. You have a keen eye for detail.

MISS HARRIET KIMBLE

You have a logical mind and highly developed power of analysis. Your natural tendency is toward literature. Your colors are green, blue, and black; your stones, the marcasite and the topaz.

Birthdays of Famous Men and Women Sept. 23-Oct. 26 -- Libra, the Scales

MR. ALVIN YOUNGQUIST

You see the world in its true proportions. You have the finest sensibilities, but you must fight for your own interests. You are in a position to acquire either houses or land.

MR. WALTER BAIRD

You are above all things, just. You recognize and appreciate harmony, symmetry, beauty. Don't be diverted from your course, especially by women. You should be happy and successful.

MISS ELENOR TOBIN

You recoil from the crude; you tend naturally toward the exquisite. You will find your greatest happiness in association with artistic people.

Your flowers are the foxglove, the violet and daisy.

MISS JOSEPHINE GOODALL

Straightforward, just, scornful of sham and pretense, progressive, yet sweetly reasonable, with all the sturdy virtues we associate with the pioneer, you win strong friends.

MR. H. E. ROCK

You have a sense of harmony and proportions. Venus and Jupiter are favorable so you should achieve success in love and money. You are inclined to beauty rather than brawn.

Birthdays of Famous Men and Women Oct. 26-Nov. 25 -- Scorpio, the Scorpion

MISS FON BOERGER

You face great opportunities and great dangers. Scorpio gives mental power or robust constitution and remarkable recuperative powers. You must be tolerant of those who lack your ability to accomplish things.

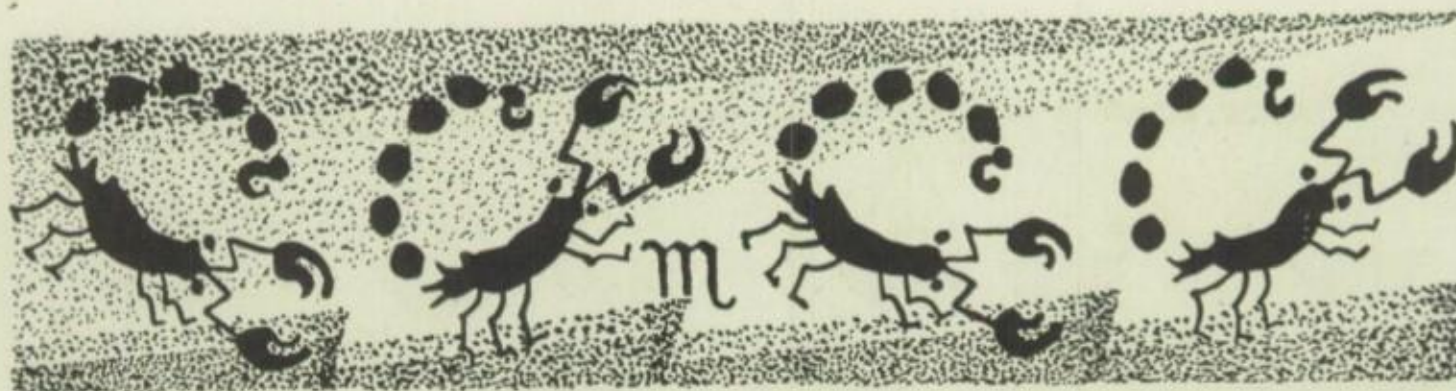

MISS DOROTHY GERDING

You are a one-man woman. You are very magnetic and have a strong physical appeal for men. Your ardor cools rapidly unless reciprocated. You like football.

MR. F. E. H. JAEGER

You have an extraordinary combination of powerful forces and should be an extraordinary person. You were born to master others. You would find success working with jewels and precious metals.

Birthdays of Famous Men and Women Nov. 25-Dec. 22 -- Sagittarius, the Archer

MISS ENZIA PARKS

You are frank, open-hearted, sincere. You like to talk, but not to listen. You speak the truth and expect truthfulness from others. Be sure you always play your hunches.

MISS ELLEN FOOTE

As a Sagittarian, you have intuition; trust your instinct. You have a naturally strong constitution. Your passions are strong, but well controlled. Don't make yourself a slave to plodding.

MR. R. R. LEACH

Mars gives his sons strength, energy, initiative, courage. Temper that courage with tact. Teach yourself to be more generous with compliments.

You would be very successful as a jeweler.

MR. J. W. B. FOLEY

You should be, and will be, if you avail yourself of your opportunities, an interesting man. You are frank, sincere, direct, generous, romantic, imaginative. You are the kind that has flashes of inspiration.

MISS SARAH DRUGGAN

Jupiter confers honor and friends, protection and happiness, success and wealth. Strive for tact. Be diplomatic, especially in your home life. You are not by nature romantic.

Birthdays of Famous Men and Women Dec. 22-Jan. 18 -- Capricornus, the Goat

MISS SARAH WAITE

You are not lacking in courage, yet Saturn gives you wisdom to test ground before you put your foot on it. Do not be capricious in your likes and dislikes.

MRS. ALICE ALLEN

You have industry, perseverance, energy, caution. You aspire to knowledge, wealth, power. You have the patience to wait for it until it arrives. Your greatest fortune will come late in life.

MRS. MAUDE WERNER

You have strong domestic instincts. You love anniversaries and family gatherings of all sorts. Your flowers are the poppy, the flax, and the holly.

MR. CARL STERLING

You long for power. You value knowledge and wealth for the power it gives you. You have in you the elements of great material success. Give them full play.

MISS ANNA GARVER

You are a born worker with tireless energy and insatiable ambition. You have many friends. You needn't worry about health or future. Your mate was born under Taurus or Virgo.

MR. S. F. ROHLFING

You are the happiest when working hardest. You have great practical gifts. Use them. Do not go in for speculation. It is not your line. Don't take life too seriously.

Birthdays of Famous Men and Women January 18-February 17 Aquarius, the Water Carrier

MISS GRACE GIBSON

You are a lover of humanity. You care more for a school, science, or language than an individual. Venus is favorable, so you might do well as a writer or public entertainer.

MR. WARD E. BRICKER

You are a humanitarian. When you love, you are forever loyal to the woman. You have a wonderful disposition and make friends easily and keep them.

MISS MILDRED COWELL

You have it in your power to deserve and enjoy a good reputation. You are essentially loyal. You are any man's equal—and you know it. In love affairs you are inclined to be undemonstrative.

MRS. P. SHOENFELD

You would excel as a teacher, writer, social worker, or nurse. You might even become interested in astronomy, astrology and occult research. You possess an intuition which is akin to prophecy.

MISS MARY ROACHE

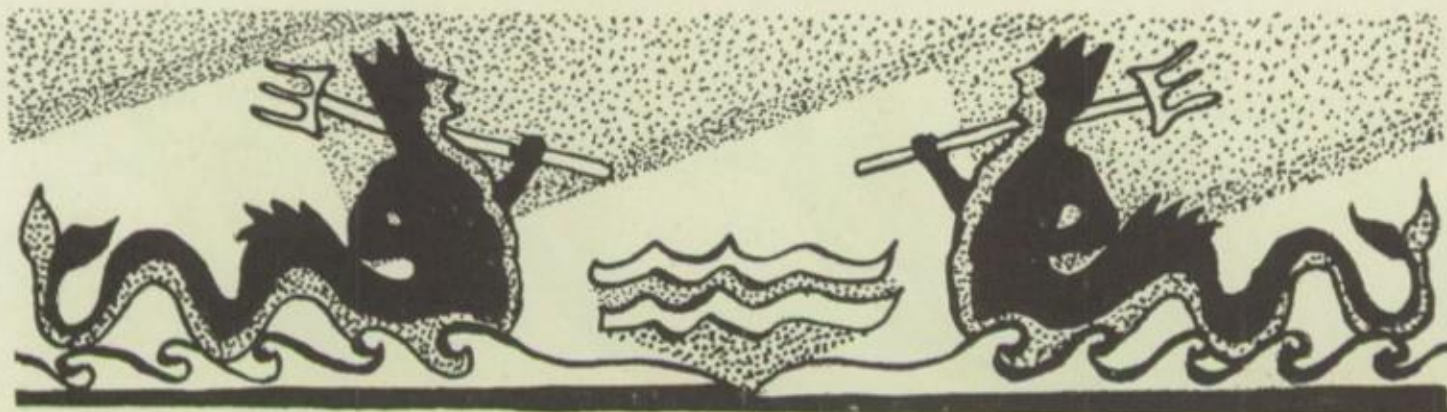

Guard against bizarre tastes and a tendency toward solitude. Learn to be a good mixer. Your sign is that of the optimist.

Your jewels are those of white and green colors.

MISS FLORA CARPENTER

If you are in love with anyone, concentrate on making him feel it. There is no fear that you will be too demonstrative. Force yourself into activities outside yourself.

Birthdays of Famous Men and Women Other Children of Aquarius

MR. C. E. COLLINS

Cling to the principles of your sign: loyalty, humanitarian impulses, helpfulness to others. Don't let the Moon make you melancholy. Give your inventive powers full play.

MISS BESSIE WERUM

Your devotion, once given, knows no limit in service. Your chief danger is that you may over-tax yourself in an effort to give too much. Guard against a tendency to neglect the man you love.

MISS J. KAHNWEILER

Don't let the wrong man spoil your life. Remember, you are first of all a humanitarian; the Universe is more important than any person. You have a delightful, dainty personality.

February 17--March 21 Pisces, the Fishes

MRS. W. E. HALL

All daughters of Aquarius are inclined to be cheerful and of good disposition. Your chief mission in life is to help others to do good.

Your colors are green and yellow.

MR. A. P. MILLS

You should convince yourself of your ability to do anything you start out to do—then do it. You are a charming companion and should make an agreeable husband.

F. NEUDERFER

STARS OF THE FIRST MAGNITUDE

Standing: Wiederanders, Brown, Georgeff, Eurenus, Rees, Justiss.

Sitting: Insprucker, Timm, Bowland, Scott, Vogel, Krieger.

Stars of the first magnitude need no names. Names do not add to the glory of the stars; they are for the satisfaction of you who take delight in tracing them in their courses. It is for your pleasure that we provide the names of these twelve Stars of the First Magnitude from the Senior Class:

- | | |
|-------------------------|-------------------------|
| 1. Eleanor Rees | 7. Geraldine Insprucker |
| 2. Kathryn Timm | 8. Leota Bowland |
| 3. Valarie Justiss | 9. Eleanor Vogel |
| 4. Eleanor Wiederanders | 10. { Ruth Krieger |
| 5. Vasil Georgeff | { Frances Brown |
| 6. Eileen Eurenus | { Iola Scott |

Note: Bracketing of names indicates tie.

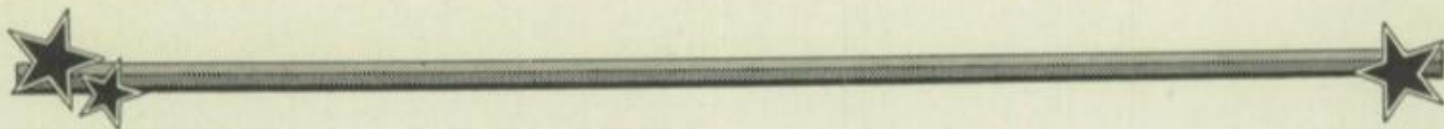

Such a list is truly significant, we believe, only when it is accompanied by a statement of the calculations followed in the charting of these particular luminaries.

We considered, not grades for a single year or a single semester, but semester averages for the student's entire high school career. Although our early publication date precluded use of the June averages for 1931, a list made out in this way would, we hoped, approximate rather closely the one prepared by the office for graduation night. Those semester averages, translated into their numerical equivalents by the "point system" so familiar in college and university usage (A=5, B=4, C=3, D=2, E=1) were totaled, and divided by the number of points credited toward graduation.

Gym grades were not considered, gym not being an academic subject. Grades in such special subjects as glee club, orchestra, and band, which carry only half credit toward graduation, were reduced one-half; e. g., an A was counted as $2\frac{1}{2}$ rather than 5, a B as 2 rather than 4. Division was made, not for five subjects, but for four and a half. So we arrived at our estimate of average excellence, which on an all-A record would have been exactly 5.

PURPLE AND GOLD

TO THE CLASS OF 1931

As we look up into the heavens on a clear night we see there stars of various magnitudes radiating their own light and controlling a universe of their own. We see planets reflecting the light they have received from the stars and moving in paths which are governed by heavenly bodies more powerful than their own. We see nebulous masses consisting of small particles which can not be differentiated from the mass. We may see also an object called a shooting star pass through the heavens leaving a trail of light which soon dies out and is seen no more.

Members of the Class of 1931, as I look into the future I see your members passing over this earthly globe in a procession similar to that we see in the celestial globe. Some of you will be centers radiating power and light controlling many forces; some of you will only radiate those forces you receive from someone else; some of you will never separate yourself from the masses and stand out as distinct personalities; and still others may flare up in some worth-while activity but not have the patience and determination to resist the forces against you.

Don't "hitch your wagon to a star;" be a star.

Philip H. Conser.

FAREWELL ADDRESS

Classmates:

For four years we have been looking forward to this evening and have been working toward it, but now that it is here, we almost wish it had not come. We wish we might go back over our high school career in order to correct some of the mistakes we have made, and do a few of the things we have left undone.

In the years at Waite we have formed friendships which will bring us lasting pleasure. Many of our classmates we shall meet in our business life or in our social life, and we shall be glad that we learned to know them in the classrooms and in the halls at Waite.

The training which we have received for the last four years should enable us to reach a respected position in our community. We started that training on a September day, freshmen as we were, almost total strangers to our new school. We were ignorant of its customs and its traditions. We knew nothing of what was expected of us, but we took advantage of the opportunities the school offered, and we feel we have made considerable progress at improving ourselves.

When we look back over our days at Waite, we remember that classes have not always seemed interesting, that the subjects we studied were sometimes dull because our minds were dull, and that outside activities have often taken too much of our attention; and yet, through it all we have kept, more or less, to our purpose. We have made progress, we are sure of that. If we have thought of "getting by" and have not put ourselves into what we had to do, we have cheated ourselves and nobody else. We remember the studies in which we took delight, really enjoying every minute of the class time. Such studies made up what we call school. The rest was routine.

In our minds the most colorful events we recall were our first football game, our first basketball game and our first social event. In our early years at Waite most of us became associated with some activity outside of school. We may or may not have put our best efforts into these activities. If we have shirked, we have missed something, for activities have a place in the life of the school. They help us to meet people with ease, they teach us something about co-operation, they ought to show us the value of fair play, and in many other ways they add to our usefulness. The proper balance between study and activities should make for a well-rounded development.

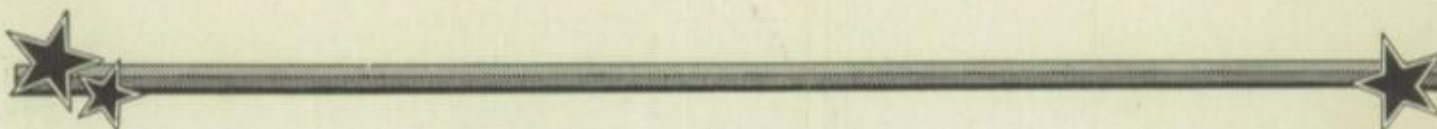

This is the fitting time to thank Mr. Conser and the faculty for the aid they have given us. As individuals and as a class we have needed our teachers. They have directed us in what we have tried to do and we remember their help gratefully. I want to thank, also, the members of this Senior class, who have worked so willingly to promote the class interests. Without their enthusiasm and their getting back of things, we could not have come to this evening with the pleasure we now have, when we look back over the past year.

To-night, with most of our high school days behind us, we are looking ahead with confidence. We have learned to rely upon ourselves, and we believe our training at Waite ought to be a help to us. We might say of ourselves, "Our ship sails on; our destiny unknown." We are willing to fight our own battles, to face what comes, and to tell ourselves emphatically that we must do all we can to meet the demands of a society which is looking for useful citizens.

Remember always, "LOYAL, LOYAL TO OLD WAITE HIGH."

Bayley Chapman.

CLASS POEM

From old tradition have we found new meaning
In Zodiac's signs—the Ram, the Lion, the Virgin—
Leadership, strength, purity, coupled with learning,
Fostered, not by Astrology's mystic art,
But as a part of actual life each day,
In study and in comradeship at Waite.

The lessons we have learned are facts to be Remembered—not as painful tasks, not doles,
Nor burdens to be borne. They are the armor,
Equipment for the contest. Friendship, too,
Has been our joy, acquaintance dear, and love.
With Gemini's blest influence, can we fail?

We give our thoughts inadequate expression,
For words are merely words, and nothing more;
Finished? Say not so, my friends. The sun
Of our accomplishment shall further rise
To lead us to new duties, newer joys,
And find among the stars our inspiration.

THE HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF '31

With the closing strains of "Use Pepsodent at least twice a day, see your dentist at least twice a year," I settled down to study a history lesson. But alas! how could one study about Napoleon, Lafayette, or even the Pilgrim Fathers when one had that very day been elected Class Historian? A different kind of history held forth in my mind—the adventures and explorations of the little band known as the class of '31.

Suddenly remembering the book lying in my lap and staring at me openly, I glanced down and read:

"The band of explorers, having set out from a safe port on June 15, arrived at their destination, Waite High School, on September 19 of the same year. Their first real adventure came when they found themselves standing in long lines to receive their first season ticket. As a means of self-protection the men of the band formed the Torch Club. The climax of the first year came when the class of '31 bought their first "Purple and Gold." This same year in the month of May, Vanity appeared in the new land in the form of the Waite High School style show.

From June 14 until September 10 there was a period of peace and quiet, but autumn brought a renewal of activities. Under favorable conditions drama made its first appearance in the form of a Bond Issue Play. April the 23 brought the girls of the band into the spot light of history when they performed in the annual gym exhibit. May 27 with its "Purple and Gold" brought to an end a peaceful Sophomore year.

As the September of the third year rolled around, the Juniors planned a treaty with the Seniors to make up a deficit in the previous year's publications. Their first real attempt at organization came when the class elected for their executives Mark Davis, president; Catherine Rudolph, vice-president; Alice Wynn, secretary; Ruth Krieger, treasurer; Roland Hudson, sergeant-at-arms. The February of the year 1930 will long be remembered as the year when the class of '31 entered the social whirl. Under the leadership of Robert Wertz the annual J-Hop was a howling success. Then came the presentation of "Strongheart," a sugar-coated pill of co-operation. As a fitting conclusion to the Junior year, the class of '31 at the Junior Mixer received their greatest and prize possession—their class rings.

Beginning their Senior year very wisely, the class chose Bayley Chapman, president; Kathryn Timm, vice-president; Helen Stipes, secretary; Earl Michael, treasurer; and Walter Murphy, sergeant-at-arms. The first social event of the year was the Varsity Dance planned by Kenneth Holland in honor of the men who fought so bravely in vain at that Thanksgiving battle. In accordance with an old tradition, the Seniors presented to the public "The Tightwad" on December 5 and 6. The Senior Prom, a lovely affair of the ninth of May, suddenly brought the realization that the exploration days of the class of '31 were drawing to a close. William Maltile will always be remembered for his management of the affair. Even when class day, May 29, became just a memory, it seemed but yesterday. The Senior Banquet followed so closely by Baccalaureate led only to Commencement exercises, the end and reward of those years of struggle.

"Say—I thought you were studying your history lesson." My cousin's terrific shaking of my shoulder made me hear these words.

Much to the amazement of Billy I replied, "I did study my history, Bill,—the history of the class of '31."

PURPLE AND GOLD

June 20, 2500

One morning bright and early as we entered the office of the Toledo Blade, we were summoned to the private office of Ella May Rike, the editor-in-chief of the paper. There we received instructions to trace the members of the class of '31 for a feature article soon to be published in the paper.

We decided to start with the planet Mars. On the 157th level of the air terminal we met Lottie Cook with whom we conversed animatedly while awaiting the arrival of the Mars Express. During the course of our conversation Lottie remarked that she was a nurse in Christian Hospital where Dr. Eugene Everett, the discoverer of a serum which perpetuates life, was house physician. She was on her way to Neptune to visit Kathryn Timm, the authoress, who was there obtaining local color for her next book. Changing our former plans, we decided at once to accompany her, thinking that Kathryn might be able to help us find others of our classmates. We ascended to the roof, 600 levels up, to take off, and there boarded our rocket plane, the crew of which was made up of Anna Gurich, conductor; Bob Kemp, pilot; and Tom George, navigator. Among the passengers were Mr. Siek and his wife the former Alice Richter. We inquired concerning Ralph's occupation and found that he was on his way to Neptune to become general manager of the Tipton Hotel, owned and built by Russell Tipton.

As we ascended from the plane, whom should we meet but a delegation consisting of Alice Mundwiler, Olga Lukianenko, Luella Never, Gladys Ward, representing the E. M. and N. (Earth, Mars and Neptune) Transport Co., and Jack Salter and Emerson Reau of the Neptune Aeronautical Club, who were waiting for the arrival of

Gayle Vobbe, the designer of the new VO-Z2 rocket plane. They were to escort him to the Aeronautical Club Headquarters. After we had witnessed his arrival, we hailed an air taxi and went to the apartment of Kathryn Timm. We spent an enjoyable afternoon there and when Kathryn suggested that we dine at a cafe nearby, owned and managed by Marthabelle McClure, we accepted with alacrity. After dinner we decided to go to the Palace Theater which was managed by the always theatrically inclined Delbert Bruggeman. Much to our surprise we discovered that the cast included many of our old friends. It was headed by Norene Rottach who was supported by Donna Campbell, Roy Textor, Jimmy Murphy, Ken Holland, Ruth Wilkins, Zelma Bickford and Ralph Hone. We noticed in one of the boxes Bill Matile, a prosperous looking business man, and his wife, a former well-known New York beauty. After the performance we bade Kathryn good-bye and went to a hotel. We consulted the directory for the entire planet and looked up some of our old classmates. We found Ruth Parish, Annabelle Meeker and Luella Smith listed as operators in the new vision phone company. Bob Wertz was listed as a mechanical engineer in the plant. Homer Cowell was coaching a university football team. Paul Akos, Leonard Banks, Lawrence McGreery, John Sullwold and Victor Beck were working as electricians in the Neptune Electric and Radiophone Company. We also found that John Soncrant was chairman of the Neptunites, the political party then in power on Neptune. Among his political followers we found Rosina Piraino, Lester Limmer, Mary Sheroian, and Arlene Blair, always rabid politicians even in Waite days. Since this completed the list of classmates on Neptune, the next morning we boarded a rocket plane for Mars.

We had a pleasant journey to this planet and in a comparatively short time disembarked at Dawson City. Here we immediately purchased a newspaper from which we learned that Helen Fuller, president of the Western Hemisphere, had established a military type of government. She had appointed Margaret Jewett as commander of her army of robots. She had seized the capital at Dawson City and had exiled the former dictator, Scott Pheils. The paper also contained a notice which said that Harry Turner had won the heavyweight championship from Milton Jones. We noticed that the new Hall of Learning, endowed by Arthur Vogtsberger, was to be dedicated by Erdine Krueger. The president of the institution was William Richardson. On the teaching staff were that galaxy famed for profound scholarship: Valarie Justiss, Robert Francis, Evelyn Hague, Reynold Kittle, John McDonald, Mae Schissler, and Madelyn Ordway.

Since there seemed to be no more of our classmates on Mars, we took a rocket plane for Jupiter where we finally arrived safely after dodging the comet Eros. The peculiar thing about Jupiter was that the cities were all underground, because of the varying pressures on the outside. As we entered the subway terminal we heard a voice calling our train. We went in the direction of that voice and found the owner to be none other than Otto Sievert. He told us that his employer was Dolores Doyle who was president of the Jupiter Rapid Transit Company. We entered our train and were soon on our way to Denman, the capital of Jupiter. As we were walking down Park Avenue, named after Utalyn Park, the most popular dancer of the Universe, we stopped to watch a window decorator; when she raised her head we recognized Ruth Pritchett. She was decorating the window to advertise R and S Soap, made by Radsick and Smith. Continuing on our way, we saw an aerial advertisement for the Ringeisen, Rummel and Ronan Circus, which had just arrived from Earth. We decided to attend the matinee performance, and after lunching at the Farris Restaurant, noted for its delicious dishes originated by the proprietor, we directed our steps toward the circus. We immediately recognized the ring master to be Mark Davis. The star acrobat was Virginia Ruch. A group of clowns, including George Gursik, Burton Weeber, Stanley Way, June Cox, Arnold Schuldt, Helen Rock and Dorothy Carter was the next attraction. Roland Cordrey, Dale Wilson and his wife Helyn Martin then presented a trapeze performance. In the grand finale we noticed Warren Keith leading the band, among whose members we saw Lowell Hessman, Victor Fahle, and Helen Luken, all of whom had studied music in the Fee Interplanetary Correspondence School of Music. As we were leaving the grounds, we met Ronald Beebe, Ruth Burgermeister, Richard Ranke and Lanore Stock who had also been attending the performance. They invited us to dine with them at the most exclusive cafe, the Greeley, where an entertainment was offered by Julia Bryan and Richard Naylor, assisted by a chorus consisting of Kathryn Chisholm, Dorothy Cotner, Thelma Eriksen, Betty Lou Dolph, Colise Bray, Eleanor Vogel, Marla Wharff, Marian Holly, Elsie Gast, Helen Hirzel, Paul Kirk, Harold Melcher, Joe Papp, Paul Biddle, Richard Gerrard, Howard Towle, Norman Gertz, Louis Gilchrist, Louis DeBauche and Melvin Dietrich. Every member of this chorus was known back in the days of '31 for exceptional qualities of voice. Tired out by the day's strenuous activities, we returned to our rooms at the Crawford Hotel. The doorman on duty that night was Charles Tansel a man particularly suited to the work. He directed us to the elevator, which shot us down to the twentieth level, on which were our rooms. The elevator operator, Elsa Miller, told us many interesting facts about the varying pressures on Jupiter as we descended.

The next day was Sunday and we attended an evangelistic service conducted by Wheeler Callender. The offering was taken by Richard McVicker and Ernest Steffan. A solo was rendered by Katie Ann Ashbrook accompanied by Margaret Lunt. After the service, Reverend and Mrs. Callender invited us to dinner. Other guests were Vernon Quay and his wife, the former Marilyn Taylor and Morton Callahan and his wife Helen Falconer Callahan. We enjoyed a pleasant afternoon reminiscing.

The following morning we departed for Venus. We arrived at Millerville, founded by Carl and Harry Miller well-known philanthropists. There we went to the Kester Hotel. As we went into the hotel we heard a voice blating out an advertisement for Sutton and Davis Hair Tonic. When we entered the lounge a few moments later, we saw a Chronister televisor projecting a picture of Wilda Dunn giving a talk on the care of the complexion. The next number was one by Bayley Chapman's orchestra, composed of Willis Finkbeiner,

PURPLE AND GOLD

Wade Evans, Clarence Brown, Robert Siemans, Roland Meister, Earl Schwartz, Nicholas Mark and Orlo Portman.

We were startled a moment later by a piercing shriek, and dashing to the window we saw the fire department disappear in a cloud of dust. Venus was still in a primitive state of civilization. We set out in pursuit and arrived just in time to see Evelyn Dudderar rescuing Margaret Eggert from the Crane Apartments. We saw Elizabeth Horvath, Irene Orwick, Mabel Reid and Grace Mesteller operating the pumps. Mable Denkoff, Ora Meacham and Lois Coy were directing a stream of water upon a neighboring edifice. Perched up on the high seat of one of the engines was none other than Eleanor Naylor. The excitement soon subsided and the crowd dispersed. In our travels we had noticed many ads for Coon Carmels, so we now entered the Briggie and Molner Confectionery and purchased some from the Abel Automatic Vendor. To our dismay, they brought on a toothache. We inquired for a dentist and were directed to the Bahnsen and Byer Office Building where Harry Schwab had his dental offices. The door at the head of the stairs announced to the world at large that Gladieux, Bell and Kopfmann were attorneys at law. The nurse in Harry's office was Dorothy Gillis. While waiting, we found a movie magazine and pictures of Naomi Freer, Dorothy Linville, Helen Stipes, Carl Key, and John Leedy, famous actors and actresses. Just then the door of the inner office opened and out came Hiram McCoy holding his jaw. He greeted us mournfully and in the course of our conversation told us that Homer Luke, George Hanna, Roger Bell and Ralph Leber were riveting girders on the Michael Bridge. After our painful interview, we lunched at a food capsule restaurant and spent the afternoon purchasing a Schenk toothbrush, a Kroetz fountain pen, a bottle of Lipot ink, a tube of Felix toothpaste, several Malone pencils and a Dickson flashlight at the Casey Department Store. Our clerks included Frances Brown, Esther Strawhacker, Alfreda Bahls and Elizabeth Kardos. We left the store and directed our steps toward the Langton Terminal, where we boarded our plane for Saturn.

Having landed on Saturn, we boarded an air bus which took us to the Mack Hotel. When we awakened the clerk, we found that he was Howard Belanger. He assigned us to our rooms very sleepily and we retired. The next morning we continued our quest for classmates and in a tonsorial parlor we found Norman Napier, Eugene Esling and Walter Beck acting in the capacity of barbers. Kathryn Klingbeil and Thelma Smith were the manicurists. In the adjoining beauty shop Helen Seguin, Joe Polito and Doris Ewing were in charge. Sylvia Miller was being given a permanent wave. As we entered the bank next door we bumped into Roland Hudson. We learned that he was an announcer in the government radio station, S. B. C. (Saturn Broadcasting Company). He informed us that Gordie Thayer, still wildly proclaiming against the chain store, often broadcast from that station. Bill Sorgen and James Crooks were also announcers there; their star prima donna was Alice Wynn. On entering the bank we presented our check to Louis Bolton, the teller. The bank detective was Ray Monto. Since there were, at the time, no other customers, we chatted with him and found that John Keller was the bank president. Others of our classmates among the employees were Eleanor Wiederanders, Rosalie Trautman, George Schaefer and William Sabo. Ray also told us of a new plan of city government which had recently been adopted. In order to learn more about this, we visited the head, Lester Kuntz. He took us through the buildings and explained the functions of all the departments. Among the department heads were Betty Kern, Ruth Krieger, Marjorie Overmeyer, Kate Rudolph and Marcella Withrow. We admired the architecture of the civic center buildings and were told that they had been designed by Robert Tarris and Virginia Hardy.

Returning to our hotel for lunch, we found a telegram from our employer telling us to attend a party to be given on the planet Uranus by Marjorie Flegle. Informed that some of our classmates were to be present, we eagerly obeyed the order and hastened to Uranus.

The party was a magnificent affair; among the guests were Eleanor Bachmeyer, the renowned milliner; Paul Stevens, Virginia Fern and Mary Frantz, teachers at the Toth French School; Frank Schottelkorb, a judge in the Uranus Supreme Court; and Georgetta

Parks, conductor of the New York Symphony Orchestra.

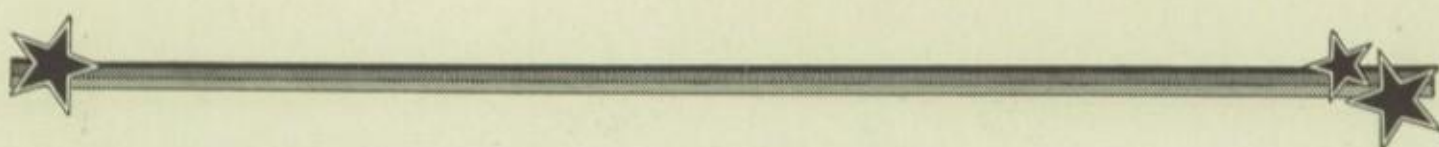

The following day we attended the final game of the Universe Series. The newly reorganized Toledo Mud Hens of Earth won the game from the Uranus All Stars. Playing first base for the Mud Hens we saw George Stoddard, and at third was Kenneth Markley. The pitcher was Robert Vance. The Uranus All Stars, entirely feminine, were at bat. The outstanding player on the team was Charline Woodard, but she was ably assisted by Virginia Young, Ruth Bachar, Hazel Wirwahn, Renilde Bauer, Alta Weaner, Thelma Travis, and Mercedes Bearss. During the second inning, Leota Bowland and Wilma Eggert came in and sat down beside us. We learned that they were palmists. During the course of the game we heard a familiar voice and turning, we saw Walter Murphy in the uniform of the flying police.

On our way to the theater that evening, we observed various advertisements along the way proclaiming the professions and occupations of many of our classmates, they were: Pencheff and Grimes, Jewelers; Ladd and Patke, Realtors; Turner and Eriksen, Shoe Manufacturers; McGeorge and Little, Opticians; and McThena, Lutif, and Lau, Florists. The ticket seller at the theater was Phyllis Browne and the ushers included Frances Damas, Winifred Stower and Ethel Uhrman. We learned from them that the owners of the theater were Bernice Salter, and Rose Vogeli.

When we returned from the theater, we saw in the lobby of the hotel an announcement of a style show to be held at the Westover Shoppe the next afternoon. We decided to go, and the next afternoon found us watching Beulah Schindler, Elizabeth Saba, Glenna Pankratz and Twyla Black, who were modeling the beautiful gowns. In the audience were several representatives of firms on Earth. Among them were Elsie and Mary Tihcheff representing the Null and Voit Shoppe; Iola Scott from the Louviaux Magasin; and Eileen Eurenus and Evelyn Stierwalt from the Henk and Sons Department Store.

We then returned to Earth to finish our assignment. Walter Ondrus, the rocketeer of our ship, miscalculated and instead of landing in Toledo we landed in Moscow. Talk about luck! The first person we met was Charles Peeps, the customs officer. He told us that Anne Schemenaur, Ruby Hammond, Marjorie Snover, and Catherine Murphy were taking orders from the Russian government. We then boarded an air liner for Paris. We had heard that Charles Jones was the American ambassador. We went immediately to the embassy and were admitted by Kathryn Rethmel. Charles was dictating to Marguerite Martin. He greeted us with surprise and we enquired for our friends in Paris. We were told that Woodruff Callahan, the millionaire, had just arrived. As private secretary to him was Juanita Sherck. Charlotte Eddleman was teaching art.

We then boarded a plane for New York. The first thing which caught our eye was a sign announcing the opening of the Evanoff Scandals. His star was Rosamond Brim, who was supported by Grace Kegerize, Lucille Jeschke, Barbara Limmer, Gertrude Lump and Eleanor Fiedler. According to the city directory Mike Damas, Kenneth Flesh, Tony Fuire and Paul Gipe were working in the U. S. Stock Exchange.

Our next stop was Washington. Among the political celebrities were Fern Broshius, Esther Grabach, Dorothy Henry, Leonard Gutnecht and Robert Lautzenheiser. Prominent in society were Hazel Heilman, Ruth Hoefflin and William Patterson.

We ended our quest in Toledo. We revisited Waite and found Bernice Bossler, Iris Boyd, Edith Blankey, Vasil Georgeff, and Joe Connolly as teachers there. To our surprise we found Howard Graver principal of the new Whitmore High School. The assistant principal was Willard Wolf. We crossed the Petroff Bridge and took a car for Leonardville, the new suburb. According to the Justiss Journal, Henry Parent and Carl Payden had just left for a trip around the Universe.

Since this completed the list of our classmates we immediately reported to our employer at the Toledo Blade, thus completing our difficult but interesting assignment.

Juniors

Stretching their necks to see what the Seniors were up to next, flapping their wings in a successful effort to keep up with records of previous years, and at the same time keeping their grace and poise, the Juniors have managed to swim through another year. Plunging valiantly into athletics, oblivious to plumage, Kalmbach, Welling, Wickenden, Toth, Kagin, and Bohland, made the quiet Junior lake bubble with excitement. The Swans cheered wildly, led by the three Junior cheerleaders, Woody Morton, George Murphy, and Russ Kelting.

Sophomores

Snorting, bellowing, pawing up the dust with lordly confidence, jamming their horns against the immovable calm of the upper classmen, the Bulls have made a successful bid for attention this year. Who could disregard or ignore them when they include such chargers as Louise Garbe, Helen Palka, Juanita Corbin, Carol Alexander, and Julius Molnar?

STARS OF THE FIRST MAGNITUDE

Standing: Clark, Mars, Henzler, Thornton
Sitting: Welling, Mark, Osborne, Ramlow, Althouse

Now for our younger stars! There were difficulties attending the selection and classification of these newcomers that have appeared in the heavens so lately, that have been under observation so briefly. Are they steady shining suns or flaring meteors merely? Our astronomers have had only a semester in which to chart their progress, too short a period to warrant absolute judgment, but they report with pride the appearance of these new celestial bodies:

Four A's—Hazel Althouse, Ralph Mark, Ruth Ramlow

Three and a half A's, one B (see explanation, page 44)—Mabel Osborne

Three A's, one B—Catherine Clark, Alice Henzler, Nellie Thornton, Fern Welling

Do there seem so few? Most students who, in their Senior year were still rated as top twelve in their class had, as Freshmen, won four A's, or three A's and one B, so we thought it not unreasonable to restrict our choice to those who measured up to that standard. But, rather than fail to take cognizance of some whose steady glow through the years may well deserve recognition, we add to our record those students whose astronomical locations read:

Two A's and two B's—Lois M. Burman, Una Marguerite Chapman, Margaret L. Douzy, Eleanor M. Jeffers, Charles T. Klinksick, Nellie Miller, Roberta L. Osborn, Richard D.
Rollo, Harry Steinhurst.

Two A's, two B's, one-half B, in orchestra or chorus—James J. Damas, Elinore M. Pierce.

Three A's, one-half B, one C—Ida Mars

As the semester draws to a close the 762 goats are not butting into the wrong classes and going up and down the wrong side of the stairs as often as they did when first herded in from the green pastures of the grades, but are browsing among the fields of art, music, athletics, science, and other subjects.

The Periclean Literary Society chose for its theme this year, historical spots in the United States. With the cooperation of our advisers, Miss Kimble, Miss Pasch, and Miss Newbirt, our programs were educational and entertaining.

A more delightful series of social events could not be imagined than enjoyed by the Peris this year. Historical events took place at historical spots in the city. "History repeats itself," agreed upperclassmen appreciatively, at the annual initiation, which was held in the home of Louise Garbe. It was on this historic day that the Peris received their striking blue jackets, set off by the dashing gold Pi sign.

And then came football season. Who could ever forget the clever mass meeting the Peris put across before the Waite-Scott game?

The next month, December, came Santa Claus, coasting, and ice-skating, but the most fun was the Christmas spread at Marjorie Overmyer's home, during vacation.

"Friendly enemies" they call us, but we Peris certainly enjoyed ourselves at the joint spread with the Zets at Navarre Shelter House in February. We're friendly, but are we enemies?

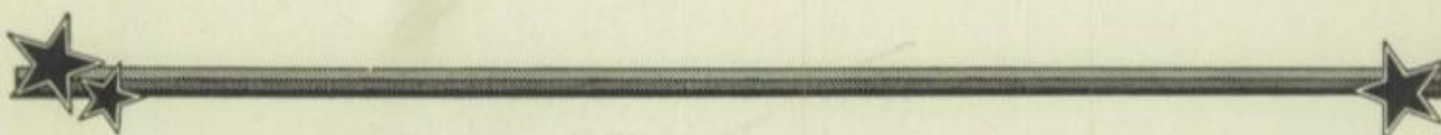

On February 11, more girls were invited to make history with us at the Peri Rush Tea, in the refectory.

One of the biggest events of the year was the annual bridge, which was held on Valentine Day at Toledo's historical spot, the Commodore Perry Hotel.

Smiling lasses danced away their troubles on the historic night, April 11, at the annual Peri dance, which was under the direction of Catherine Rudolph.

As all good things must come to an end, our year was closed at the memorable farewell spread. To the seniors we say good-bye; to the juniors we leave our best wishes for a prosperous and successful year for 1932.

Which is the front of the Q. D., the way his nose faces or the way his buttons face? And how many of those heart-breaking proposals will be accepted? The Q. D. pledges decided that it was worth it to become full-fledged members of the Alpha Chapter of the Quill and Dagger Literary Society of Waite High School.

Remember how the Q. D. Symphonic Razz orchestra persecuted "Bye, Bye Blues"? Oh! What a mass meeting!

The pledges blossomed out in their best clothes with their best girls at the Couple Party held at the Auto-Lite Club.

Were you ever at a Harlem Nite-Club in New York? What's the difference? You've seen the Q. D. Cabaret. We will always remember that nite club atmosphere, including a floor show, modernistic decorations, and to top it off, a peppy colored band—J. Frank Terry and his Musical Blackbirds.

The Q. D.'s chose for the theme of their literary programs modern literature. Members were chosen to contribute to the theme with talks every other meeting. Mrs. Allen entertained on one occasion with modern dialogue poems; we often wonder if she isn't a daughter of sunny Italy.

The Quill and Dagger will lose many members this year through graduation, but they can rest assured that each and everyone of those members will carry many happy and pleasant memories of the Quill and Dagger with him and will look back upon a most successful year, both social and literary.

"The Sublime and the Ridiculous," in combination, make a rarely well-balanced and altogether delightful literary and social program; ask the Zetaletheans, their officers and advisers. From the sublimity of Benet's epic "John Brown's Body" to such hilarious confessionals as "Why I Am Glad I Am Not a Blonde," ran the eighteen program meetings; from the whims of an initiation committee to the tearful leave-takings of the Seniors' farewell spread ran a social schedule which leaves these cherished memories:

The Zet mass meeting, when the Zets appeared in their distinctive new, green and gray jumper dresses with saucy berets to match.

Members of the Forum Literary Society will remember this past year of pleasant activities long after they have graduated.

The purpose of the society is to improve its members in public speaking, debating, and the study of literature. To carry out this purpose many well-planned programs were given by the members of the club, also a few by members of the faculty.

In the annual football game with the Q. D.'s the Forum triumphed, 13 to 0.

The basketball team defeated the Q. D.'s and also won the intramural title.

The noteworthy event of the Forum social calendar, the "Red Hot Hop," given March 28, was a huge success from all standpoints. The couple party held April 25, was enjoyed by all. This was followed by the initiations, to the dismay of the pledges.

So well have the purposes of the society been carried out, that the members who remain after graduation will endeavor to hold up the standards of the society and to contribute to its future growth and development.

The Student Council, the most important organization at Waite, has accomplished a number of things this year. The outstanding achievement was initiating the Student Hall Patrol System. This was the first time an experiment of this sort had been undertaken at Waite.

The Stadium Drive was continued and a magazine campaign was promoted to raise funds for the stadium.

A committee, with Marjorie Overmeyer as chairman, drew up charters and applications for charters to be used by the various organizations. The form presented by Howard Boggs was adopted. Through the aid of Miss Werum, an orchestra concert was given to raise money for current expenses.

Two movies were sponsored to raise funds in order that we might be able to follow the idea inaugurated last year of beautifying our halls with mural paintings. The same artist has been requested to make sketches of characters from "Twelfth Night" and "Midsummer Night's Dream."

The Students' Standard of Ideals for Waite High School was greatly stressed this year. Throughout the year the Student Council's aim was to raise the standard of courtesy. This was carried out through various courtesy committees who drew up codes. These codes were printed and distributed in home rooms, where they were discussed.

Under the advisership of Mr. Sterling and Miss Garver, and our counselor Miss Goodall, the council as a whole enjoyed a very successful year.

The theme of the French Club programs, planned by Erdine Krueger this year, was "Modern France". The club enjoyed talks given in French by various members as well as French games and songs. Some of the outstanding programs of the year were the successful presentation of "Rosalie" by Marjorie Overmeyer, Iola Scott, and Howard Belanger, and Miss Griffith's delightful account of her trip to France last summer.

Christmas spirit is ordinarily contagious, but there was no resisting the gay French Christmas carols presented as a feature of the holiday convocation, which communicated the spirit of Joyeux Noel to the whole student body.

The social affairs were planned and successfully carried out by Lanore Stock and her committee, assisted by Miss Griffith and Miss Butler, the club advisers. The club held a spread as a final event on the year's program.

Who is that running down the hall in the flashy red sweater trimmed with the coat of arms of Spain? Why, a member of El Club Cervantes, to be sure.

The Spanish Club has just completed another successful year. Its members have traveled through Mexico and Spain, observing the dress, customs, characteristics, and amusements of these countries. They experienced the pleasure of participating in some of the Spanish games at the spread given in March.

El Club Cervantes contributed to the annual Christmas program given in the auditorium by singing some of the well-known Spanish songs. They replenished their treasury this spring by giving a very interesting movie for the student body. In all they have accomplished much in the second year of their existence, and have done much in furthering the appreciation of this romance language in Waite High School.

The Optimates, the Latin Club of Waite, has had a most interesting year. All the programs have been devoted to a study of early history and customs of that renowned "City of Seven Hills." The myths of ancient Rome and of the Latin race have been reviewed and enjoyed.

Although the club has been somewhat handicapped by the loss of a great many seniors, it has more than made up that loss by the admittance of a number of new members.

The club was organized four years ago for purely scholastic purposes, but every year it has held an informal Christmas party. This year the members greatly enjoyed participating in the mythological guessing game.

The last meeting of "The Optimates" is one of farewell for the seniors who leave us, but we do wish to extend to them our most sincere wishes for the future and to thank them for their splendid cooperation during the past year.

The Engineers started with a slightly different type of work this year by giving their first mass meeting. Many pledges learned why the Swiss Navy must learn to ride goats.

A year's subscription to the "Engineering News Record" has been donated to our Library. The advisers were Mr. Charles Collins, Mr. Osborne, Mr. Sterling, Mr. Cummings, and Mr. Klag.

This year the Alchemist Society has worked hard to fulfill the aim of the club; that aim is to make the members, who are all chemistry or physics students, better acquainted with those subjects.

But the social life was not neglected. The outstanding event was the annual dance which was given in the gym. The committee chose an unusually clever name—the “Alchemy Amble.” This proved to be a great social success. The mass meeting before the Libbey basketball game also deserves to be mentioned since it was the only mass meeting given by a club for a basketball game.

The club wishes to welcome their new adviser, Mr. Rohlfing, and we musn’t forget Miss Howard, our adviser, whose co-operation and interest makes possible the club’s activities.

If a Scarab fixes you with a hypnotic stare, beware, and review your peculiarities hastily; perchance you are about to become his victim, for the object of the Scarab Biology Club is to collect and prepare specimens for the regular biology classes, and to develop an interest in plant and animal life.

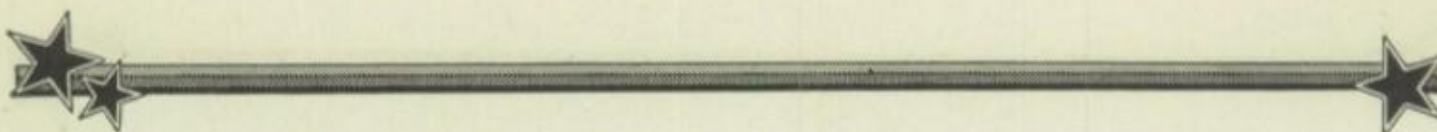

The membership at present numbers fifty. Only sophomores or juniors, taking or having taken biology are eligible to join the club.

Student-planned and student-presented programs were supplemented by several opportunities to observe insect life at close range, as the Scarabs picnicked. Another social affair was the Scarab dance.

The club has played its part in school and community activities throughout the year. The mass meeting given by the club, which was awarded first place, was written by Emille McCormack, an honorary member. At Christmas, a basket was contributed to the charity program, and since then the Scarabs have been active in campaigns for stadium funds.

A great deal of the success of the club during the past year is due to the efforts of the club advisers, Mrs. Canfield and Mrs. Schoenfeld.

The first Altobee Art Club was organized in 1922 by a group of nine enthusiastic students who were ambitious to sketch out-of-doors. The name was then spelled with two l's, "Alltobee," and meant All-to-be-artists. The last syllable was spelled "bee," to show how busy they were.

Most of our meetings this year have been indoor meetings, held during the Home Room Period and after school. All Altobee pledges made their entrance into the club at the annual Hallowe'en Initiation, at which time they fulfilled sentences given by that old pirate, Captain Kidd. Interesting stage decorations were made by the members. Stage decorations at other meetings have been equally clever.

The A. A. C. has been entertained by an exciting dramatic monologue, chalk talks, a reading on the life of Washington, and reports on masters of art. The members were pleased with their distinctions, which were sweaters displayed early in the year.

The roll call has increased from seventy-five members of last year, to eighty-two members.

The Club has found this year pleasant and informing. At Christmas, a party was held in the refectory, after school. The tree and table were decorated by members of the club. The entertainment consisted of songs and a charming pantomime, "The Absent-Minded Professor." Santa Claus was there—just ask any of the Altobees. We in turn played Santa Claus in cheering an unfortunate family with our Christmas tree and popcorn balls. A Washington party was given this year in place of the annual Valentine party. The entertainment included songs with uke accompaniment by "Two Country Lovers", popular music played on the harmonica, and an interesting reading. Copies of the club song, which has many verses and is sung to the tune of "Andy Gump," were distributed at this meeting.

Many who are members of the Altobee Art Club have cooperated with the Annual Board in the artistic decoration of this year book.

A visit to the studio of Mr. Karl Kappes is certainly one to be looked forward to. The closing event is usually the annual May dance.

With the closing of the school year the Commercial Club has completed its most successful year since the club was formed in 1923. This organization, whose interest includes all commercial work, is the largest organization in the school, this year the total number of members nearing the three hundred mark.

The meetings during the year have included a series of talks by prominent business men as well as many other entertaining features. The outstanding entertainments enjoyed by the members of the club were the initiation, the annual afternoon dance, and the annual banquet.

The retiring officers feel fortunate indeed in having had for advisers, Miss Ellen Fouts, Miss Adams, Miss Commager, Mr. Pearsall, Mr. Bricker, Mr. Severance, Mr. Jaeger, Mr. Fankhauser, Mr. Rohfling, and Mr. Moffat. Happy in such inspiration and friendly helpfulness, the officers who succeed us will scarcely need our sincere wishes for luck and success in the coming year, as they carry on the work and uphold the standards of the Commercial Club.

The Home Economics Club, with a membership of seventy-five, has had one of its most successful years. The club started its year's activities with the mock initiation, which was held at the Riverside Shelter House. The formal initiation was held in the auditorium, where, because of its large membership, most of the club meetings have been held, and by recently established custom, during home rule period. A most enjoyable program has been planned throughout the year.

Mr. Guy V. Sutphen, aided by a few courageous spirits, organized the first Waite High Band in 1922.

At that time the idea of high school bands in Toledo was not taken very seriously. Today all the schools have bands, and the foremost educators of the country all recognize the band to be an important part of any school curriculum. However, we can proudly say that the Waite Band can compare with the best of them.

We played for every football game, regardless of the weather, giving the game an added cheer and a most colorful background.

The Waite High School orchestra under the direction of Miss Werum has rounded out another highly successful year with one of the best balanced organizations that has been produced at Waite.

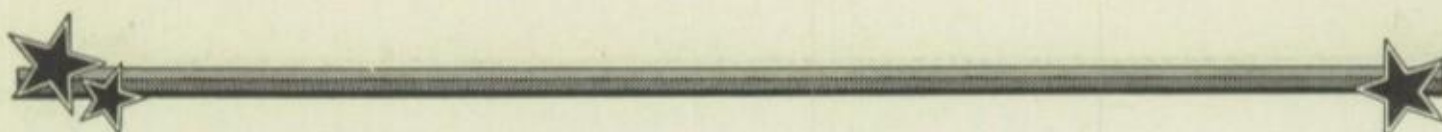

The orchestra has been exceedingly active this year. The first work was the production of "Once in a Blue Moon" in co-operation with the Glee Club. Next was the annual concert, followed by another success at the Art Museum. Soloists for the concert were Kenneth Holland, violin; Warren Keith, cornet; and Stanley Smith, trombone. Then came the accompaniment of "Sonia," after which our Waite group presented a morning concert for the school. Kenneth Holland was soloist, accompanied by Mr. Mathias.

Kenneth Holland has done a fine piece of work as concert master for the orchestra this year. Robert Patridge is also to be praised for his excellent work on the oboe.

The orchestra work is being carried on beyond graduation by the alumni. Jerd Bayliss, '30, is in the Ohio State Band beside the classical groups, the University Orchestra and the Salon Orchestra. Joe Moon, '30, is also studying at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music.

The last piece of work of the Waite High School orchestra was the concert given with the orchestras of other Toledo High Schools in the Civic Auditorium, April 19. The two hundred and fifty piece orchestra was immensely enjoyed by a large audience in Convention Hall.

Glee Club

The Waite Glee Club has just completed another successful year. The organization, numbering sixty-two members, presented three operettas this year. The first success was the opera "Blue Moon," on November 24, 1930. The second triumph was "Sonia," or "The Girl from Russia." The native costumes of the Russians and the beautiful songs made this one of the best operas ever presented in the Toledo High Schools. The third and last opera was called "Lady of the Terrace," which was given in May. This opera also proved to be a great success.

All this was made possible only by the unselfish, untiring efforts of the club's much esteemed director, Mr. Clarence R. Ball, and the club wishes to extend its sincere thanks and good wishes to him at this time.

Sergeant-at-Arms	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Stanley Way

The Senior Hi-Y Club carried out most of the aims of the organization this year. At the weekly meeting sometimes a speaker was present; at other times discussions were held on topics relating to every-day experiences.

World fellowship funds were supplied by two magazine sales. The vocational guidance program was arranged with the idea of helping the boys of the school to choose a vocation.

During the early spring, joint meetings were held at the Y. W. C. A., with the Friendship girls. The basketball games with other clubs of the school kept up the spirit of the good sportsmanship.

All the Hi-Y clubs combine for the Mother-and-Sons banquet, which was held in May.

The year was filled with profitable activity.

Sergeant-at-Arms	-	-	-	-	-	-	George Molnar

Although there are four other Hi-Y clubs at Waite High School, the Junior club, comprised of Junior boys, is the most outstanding club of the year. At least, that is what the junior boys think. The club has been successful in its programs, social events, and school activities. This achievement was due to the cooperation of our encouraging adviser, Mr. Brown, and the members of the club. We have tried a new system this year, in order to make each member participate in the preparation of the programs. We have found that it has worked exceedingly well.

The roots of last year's "Tree of Life" have traveled far down into the earth, and are growing splendidly. By next year we shall have grown into a fine, strong, well-built tree.

Sergeant-at-Arms	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Jack Curran

The Sophomore Hi-Y Club met this year as a separate group, with Mr. Benson as adviser. Besides meetings held separately, the club joined with the other Hi-Y groups of the school for special programs once each month.

The Sophomore club took part in the intra-mural basketball tournament which was carried on, during the spring, by the various organizations of the school. As a means of raising money for World Fellowship work, the boys sold candy. The year was full of activities of various kinds, which gave the boys practice in doing things for the school.

The Freshman Hi-Y was organized soon after the opening of school last fall. Any freshman boy who felt interested in the aims of the club, and who was willing to work for these aims was eligible for membership.

During the year joint meetings were held once a month with the older Hi-Y clubs of the school. At other meetings speakers were present, who gave talks or led discussions.

The Freshman Mixer was the first social event of the year; in the spring a party was held at the central "Y". The club played a number of basketball games during the year and kept active in other ways. On the whole, the year has been a good one for the Freshman Hi-Y.

EVENTS OF THE YEAR

October 28—The roast at Fort Meigs.

November 15—First Friendship Club football mass meeting, which tied for second place in the competition for honors.

December 18—Christmas party at Miami Children's Home.

Christmas gifts were given to the orphans, and also sent to the Indians in North Dakota.

February 28—Couple party at Y. W. C. A.

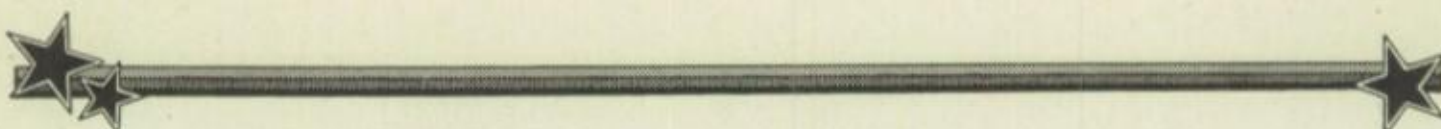

April 9—The play, "Rejuvenating Sally."

May 21—Mothers' and Daughters' Banquet.

The theme "Wings" provided a wide scope for the many programs during the year.

The Senior Friendship Club wishes great success to the girls who will carry on the spirit of fellowship next year.

The Junior Friendship Club has been very successful this year, thanks to our president and program chairman. The theme for the year was "Wings," a theme which proved exceptionally interesting. At one of the meetings Miss Rees described her visit to the Navajo Indian reservation; at another Miss Gibson discussed her trip abroad; Miss Goodall told us about Madonnas at the Christmas meeting. The World Fellowship program was most interesting, as it gave the Waite High School girls of different nationalities opportunity to give short sketches of their fatherland.

The social events of the year have been varied and enjoyable. They consisted of a spread held last fall, at Navarre Park; a Valentine party given to thirty little orphans at the Lutheran Home; an Irish Jig, an after-school dance given March twentieth at Waite High School.

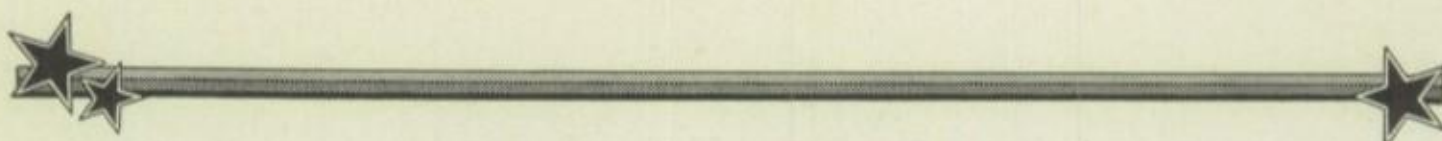

The members of the club seem to be a bit proud, but can you really blame them? This is the first time that the Junior Friendship Club has ever received distinctions.

We wish at this time to thank our advisers for the hearty cooperation we have received from them in all our activities of the past year.

Boys' "W" Club

When you see a Waite man who wears a small, round, gold pin inlaid with purple, surrounding a tiny "W", you should know that he's a Varsity "W" man. Three years ago there was felt the need at Waite of an organization to uphold the dignity of the Varsity "W", to create a closer feeling of brotherhood among wearers of the "W", and to foster any and all moves that would tend to improve sportsmanship on the team and in the school. The Varsity "W" Club has done that very thing. Membership in the club is honorary, for only those students who have won a Varsity letter in the major sports are eligible for election to the club.

MR. C. E. COLLINS

And here is Waite's coaching staff, which has worked so cooperatively this year. Mr. Collins, who holds the reins of the entire coaching staff in his hands, is our head coach. Mr. Pearsall managed ticket sales most efficiently, and Miss Beier was invaluable in her strategic position as special secretary and "contact man."

ROYAL OAK HIGH OF DETROIT

In the first night football game ever played in Toledo, Waite High Gridders downed the Royal Oak team from Detroit by a score of 14 to 0. The game was played before a crowd of approximately five thousand people who came to see this innovation in America's greatest sport.

ST. JOHN'S

In the second game of the season, Waite was held to a 12 to 12 tie score by St. John's High. The game was a real battle, one of the hardest on the schedule. Waite outplayed the visitors distinctly in both the second and third quarters, but the final scoring punch was lacking in the Waite team.

ENGLEWOOD OF CHICAGO

Again the mighty Englewood team from Chicago administered a stinging defeat to the Purple and Gold warriors. The first half of the game proved to be one of those nip and tuck affairs with both teams in possession of the ball, but the second half showed Englewood to be the superior of the two. The final score was Waite 0, Englewood 12.

GARFIELD OF AKRON

A scoreless tie was the result of an afternoon of hard-played football by the South Akron Garfield and Waite teams. The game, which soon terminated in a punting duel, had the spectators on edge throughout the entire four quarters.

ROOSEVELT OF DAYTON

A second defeat upon the records of the Waite High School football team was administered by the Dayton Roosevelt team in a very interesting game. The Dayton team came up to Toledo with very definite views in mind; sad to say, they were accomplished at the expense of Waite. Waite 0, Dayton Roosevelt 24.

FINDLAY HIGH

In the only out-of-town game of the year, Waite was defeated by Findlay High by the score of 21 to 0. Although beaten by a large score, Waite played the best brand of ball of the entire season to make more first downs than Findlay. Dick Wickenden, who had just come up from the reserve squad, was the outstanding player of the day.

Second Row: Coach Collins, Kagin, Toth, Rahe, Thomas, Welling, McThena, Connolly, Anderson.
Third Row: Murphy, Beebe, Bolton, Peeps, Wagner, McGeorge, Schulte, Bohland, Morse.

WOODWARD

A stinging blow to Waite High School's pride came with the defeat of the Purple and Gold gridders by the Polar Bears. This was the first defeat Waite had ever suffered at the hands of Woodward. Waite started off in good shape, but the determined Bears accomplished their earnest desire, that of beating Waite. The final score was Waite 0, Woodward 12.

WEST TECH OF CLEVELAND

Resorting to their fast developing passing attack, the Waite team emerged victors over Cleveland West Tech in the Waite bowl. This game, being the second victory for the Collins men, put the hopes of the team on a much higher level. The Waite passing attack startled most everyone in its efficiency to gain ground when needed. Cleveland West Tech 0, Waite 13.

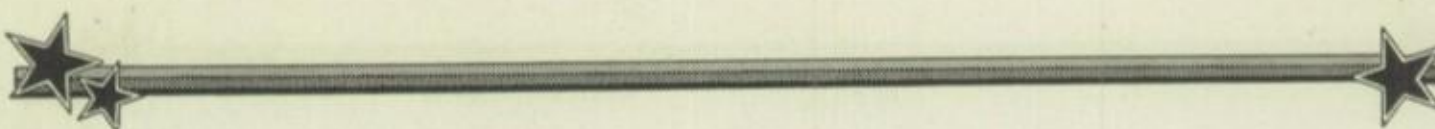

LIBBEY

The Libbey High School Cowboys trampled the Waite gridders to the ground in the third inter-city game on the Waite schedule at the South Sider's stadium. The highly touted Libbey backs found the Purple line hard to penetrate during the first half, only putting over one touchdown, but the second half was the final test, exhibiting their superior strength. With the final score Waite 0, Libbey 27, Waite is determined to try again.

SCOTT

In the seventeenth annual classic football game between Waite and Scott on Thanksgiving Day, Scott High went home to enjoy their dinner more, with the satisfaction of giving Waite another beating. The game was marked by many thrilling plays which made the combat a remarkable one, even though the Purple and Gold were on the short end of the score. Scott 19, Waite 2.

The Lightweight Squad

This being the first year for a lightweight team at Waite, the real value of this squad will not be determined until future years. The idea and purpose of this squad was to teach football fundamentals to a large group, to find and develop material for the varsity squad, to instill football thinking, to furnish scrimmages for the varsity, and to demonstrate plays and formations used by opponents before the varsity squad.

The lightweight squad consisted of beginners, and no attempt was made to produce a smooth working team of eleven players. In nearly every lightweight game the entire squad participated, thus receiving actual game experience.

The boys on the squad responded well and every member lived up to the fine traditions of our great school; we have every reason to feel proud of their work.

Student Managers

The boys who work faithfully caring for athletic equipment through an entire season need to be congratulated. The rewards are slight, the duties are exacting and tedious. The greatest reward is the knowledge of a job well done in the service of our dear old Waite.

Varsity Basketball

Waite opened its basketball season by winning a double-header in the gym, Friday, December 12, defeating Morenci 28 to 18, and Liberty Center 32 to 13.

The following week Waite had little trouble defeating North Baltimore 50 to 14. During Christmas vacation, in their first game on Christmas night, Waite beat Kenton 30 to 16. The next night they played Westerville and won 43 to 13. The following evening Waite lost a listless game to Columbus North 37 to 23.

In the next two weeks Waite defeated St. John 35 to 21, and Woodward 32 to 17. On January 23, Waite journeyed to Dayton Roosevelt and won a thrilling game, 25 to 24. On January 3, Waite defeated its old rival Scott, 28 to 23. The following week Waite was beaten in a thriller by Libbey, 19 to 17. On February 10, Waite beat Liberty Center 27 to 20 in a return engagement at Liberty Center. February 20, Waite finished up the season schedule defeating Blissfield 27 to 12.

Waite and Libbey, who was defeated by Woodward, played for the city championship in the new Toledo University field house, Libbey winning 16 to 11.

March 13 and 14, Waite went to Findlay to the District Tournament as runners-up, defeated Shelby 30 to 22, Van Wert 25 to 14, and was defeated by Lima Central for District Championship, 20 to 7. Waite went to Columbus as runners-up for the State Tournament.

Basketball Reserve Team

Next year Waite should have a cracker-jack of a basketball team. Why? Because this year the Reserves annexed the city championship and lost but one game and that to an outside team. One reason why the Varsity team enjoyed a good season was because the reserves kept them going at a fast pace in the daily practices.

Coach Anderson has some very good material coming from the Reserves to the Varsity next year in the persons of Willard, Curran, Kaiser, Burr, Davies, Fravor, Meyers and Harvey.

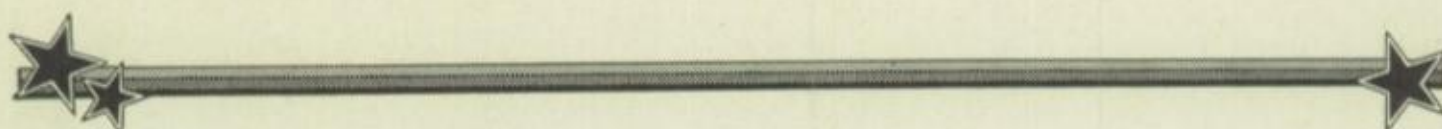

The following men received the reserve letters:

Lehman		Rahe
Heininger		Schnell
Papp	Boycheff	Anton

Their schedule for the 1930-31 season was as follows:

Waite		Opponents
28	Morenci, Mich.	18
25	St. John's	15
21	Woodward	12
23	Scott	20
23	Pettisville	25
31	Libbey	17
35	Central	16

Track, '30

Starting the season with just a few veterans, Waite developed one of the best track teams of the past few years.

The season was opened April 12, by dual meet with Fostoria on the home track. In a close meet Waite nosed out the victor by a score of $65\frac{1}{2}$ to $57\frac{1}{2}$. The individual star of the day was Alexander, who collected 3 firsts for a total of 15 points. Rieman was next with 12 points.

The following week the team conquered Bryan by a 77-45 score. Kaiser was high point man with 3 firsts, bringing 15 points. Reiman and Spahr, a newcomer, were next with 12 points each. Reilly, also a newcomer, was next with 10 points.

April 24 we found Waite at the Defiance Relays where we finished in a tie for 3rd place. Rieman and Reilly showed up exceptionally well. Our sprint relay team finished second only to the strong state championship quartet from Columbus Central.

On May 3 the team journeyed to Fremont where we were nosed out in an exciting meet in which the relay finally decided the winner. Rieman was the outstanding figure of the meet, breaking the field record for high hurdles, running in 15.8 a second less than previous record, also tying the low hurdles. Incidentally, this was the final dual meet in which an Anderson-coached track team was defeated in six years of competition.

On May 9, Waite journeyed to Findlay to compete with 5 other schools in a meet which Waite won by scoring 88 points. Lima Central was second with 42, followed by Fostoria, 30; Lima South with 23 points, and Findlay with 22.

Waite finished second in the city meet, Rieman setting a new high hurdle record.

The Northwestern Ohio District Meet found us taking third place. Our relay set a new record. Rieman also set a new record in high hurdles. At the close of the season Rieman and Alexander were elected honorary captains.

Base Ball-1930

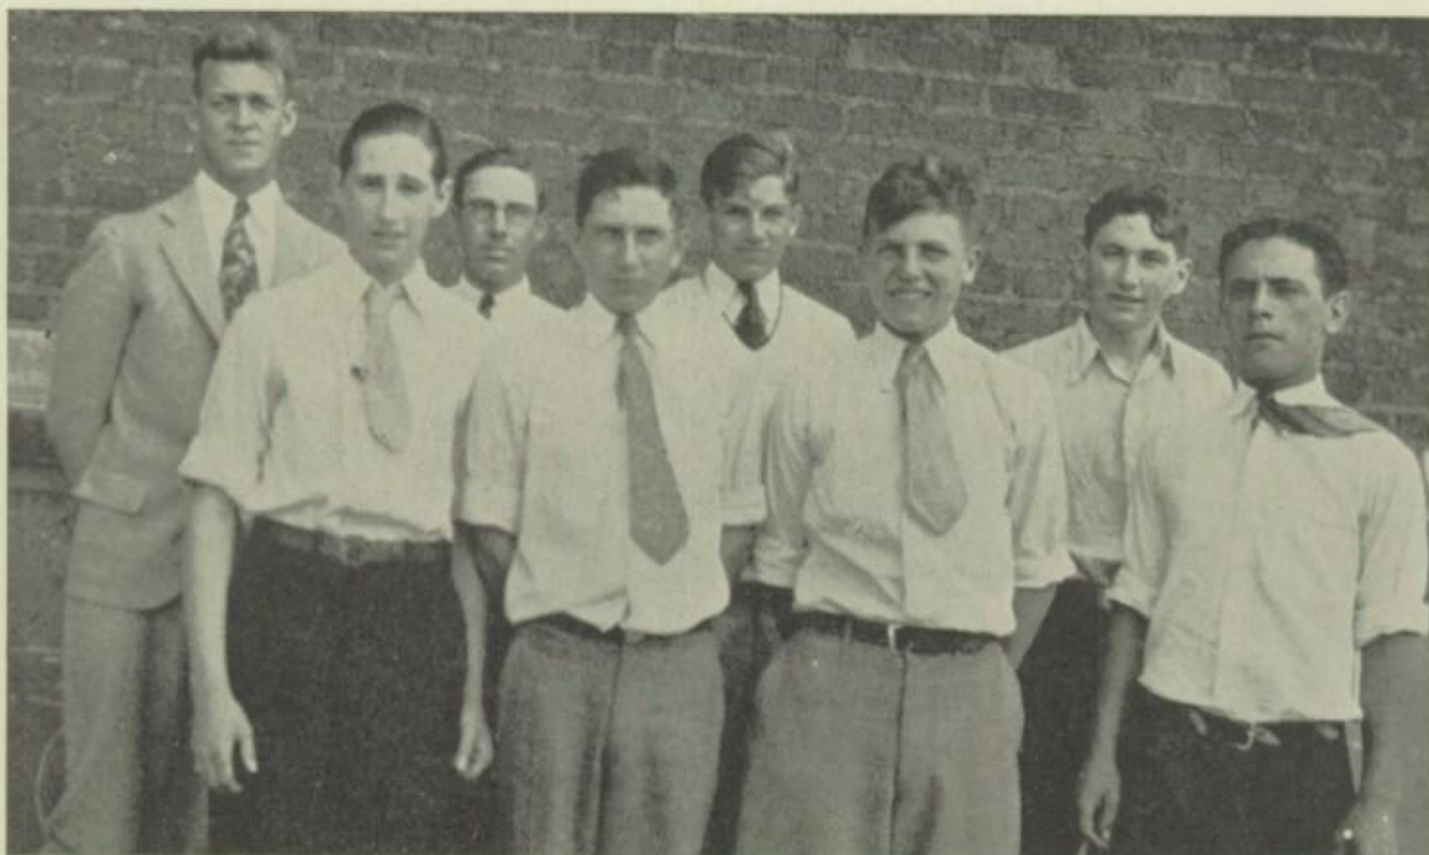

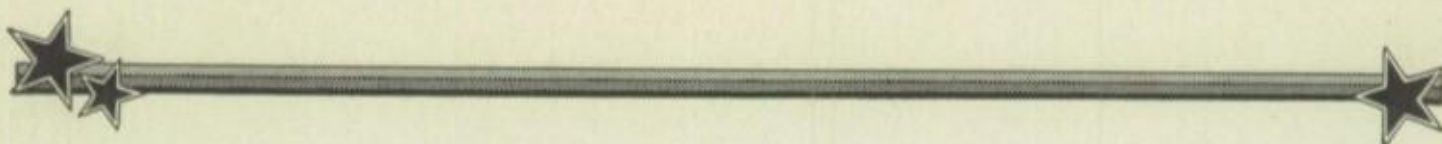

Base ball has again taken its place among the major sports sponsored at Waite. There was a time when base ball was not considered important and was, in consequence, allowed to die out, and no team represented our school. In the spring of 1927, with Joe Collins in charge, a desperate effort was made to revive interest in base ball, and the season of 1930 shows the effects of this renewed interest.

The base ball situation presents two possibilities or two goals to be attained; the one is the city championship and the other is, by means of tournament play, to be represented as a contender for the state championship. With but few pitchers available it is very difficult to achieve both, consequently Mr. Mills and Mr. Collins decided that this year they would work with the State tournament as the goal. This choice proved successful, as our team won the District Championship at Defiance College and then represented Northwestern Ohio at Columbus in the State finals. Here we did not meet defeat until in the semi-finals; we were eliminated by Woodward High School of Cincinnati.

It was a remarkable season from a weather standpoint, as nineteen games were played without a single postponement. We defeated our old rival, Scott, three out of four times, Central twice, and Libbey once. Besides these, we won games from Defiance, Fremont, Blissfield, Kenton, and Van Wert.

We are looking forward to a great season in 1931.

Golf Team, '30

After a lapse of two years during which time the interest in golf sagged extremely, Waite was represented on the greens and fairways by a golf team. The team was sponsored by the Athletic Association.

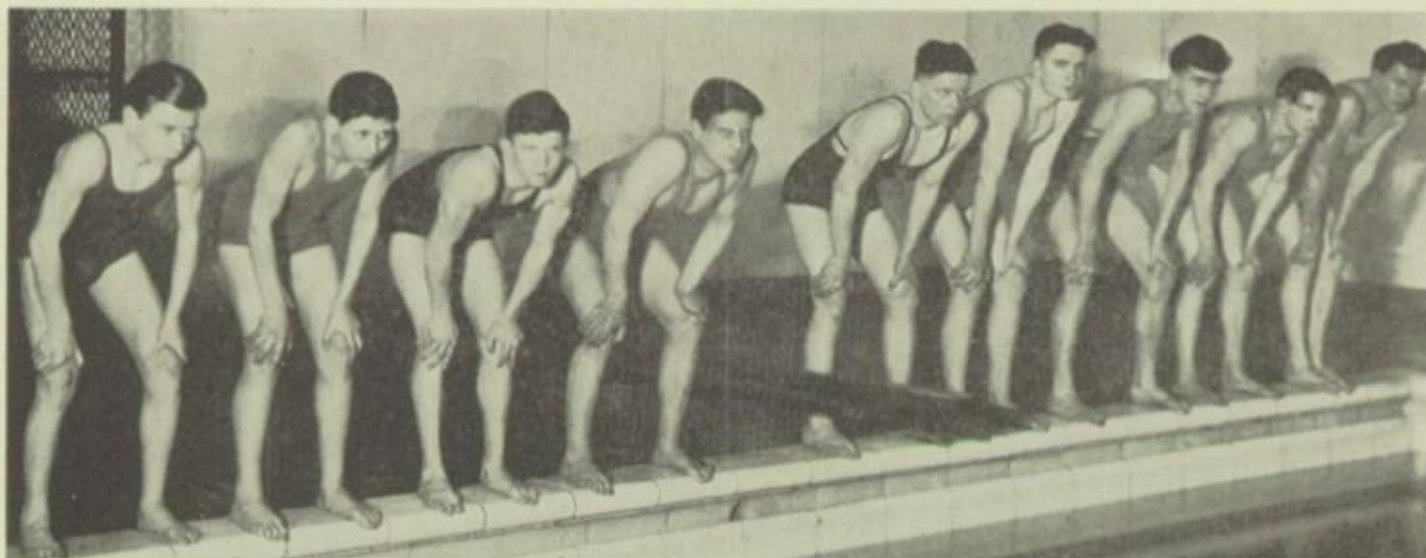

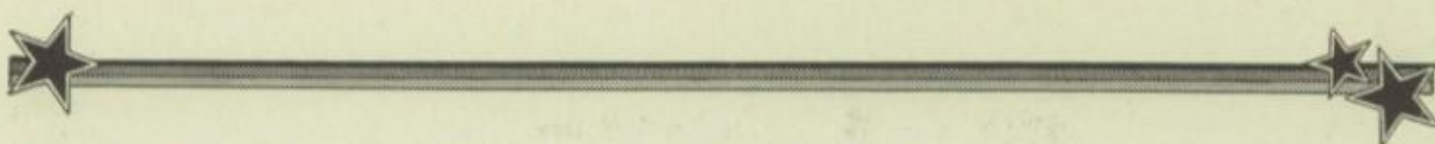

Coming back to the inter-city competition Waite had only two experienced golfers. Due to this lack of competitive golfers, the team suffered a poor season.

Ernest Lyons, captain of the team, was lead-off man with Norman Gertz as his partner. Tom George and Gayle Vobbe played in the third and fourth positions, respectively. The fifth and sixth positions were filled by Bill Richardson and Everett Richardson. Players are ranked according to medal play while all matches are determined by match play.

Waite High golf team defeated Woodward in both of the matches, and dropped two close games to Scott. They also dropped exciting matches to Libbey, St. John's, and Central.

Lars Wagner is our golf coach.

PURPLE AND GOLD

Swimming Team

The swimming team was in only one meet this year. This is the first year for a swimming team at Waite. In the City meet, Waite, inexperienced, finished second to Scott's fast-stepping, experienced team. Louis Gilchrist finished third, and Bayley Chapman fourth in the breast stroke race. Harry "Pal" Pooley placed fourth in the 100 yard dash. In the 50 yard free style, Waite had Ron Beebe, Joe Broderick, who placed fourth, and Snyder Stewart. Junior Moran placed fourth in the breast and back stroke race. Rex Shaw placed second in the back stroke. Bobby Mays and Lloyd Smith placed fifth in diving contest.

There is plenty of good material for next year, because the swimming squad is composed almost entirely of freshmen and sophomores.

Cheer Leaders

George Murphy, Woodrow Morton, and Russel Kelting, Waite's cheerleaders, have done strenuous work in leading our mass meetings and organizing our field spirit this year. Through victory and defeat they have been on the job, leading us in our cheers to encourage the boys who have been fighting for Waite. Because they put their hearts and themselves into their efforts, Waite has the reputation of having one of the best cheering sections in the city.

MISS TILOCK

MISS GOTTSBALL

Girls' Athletic Coaches

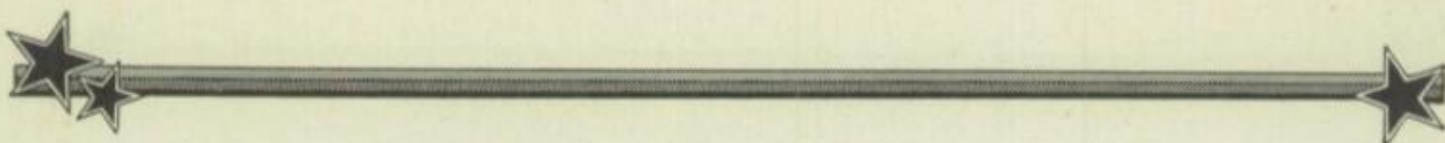

Now, ye star gazers, behold the two shining stars of the gym! These two fine-looking, healthy young women are very essential in the athletic life of Waite girls and set perfect examples for them.

We are happy to welcome Miss Gottshall back to us again. She has been away a year, during which she attended Columbia University, where she received her B. S. degree. This is the third year Waite has had a claim on this petite, dark-eyed lady, who is a graduate of New Haven Normal School of Gymnastics. Miss Gottshall was the supervisor of the new class in tap dancing this year.

Miss Tilock is our other athletic star. In physical appearance she is an inspiration to all girls to carry on their gymnastic work. This is her fifth year with us, having come here after graduating from New Haven and taking extra work at Madison, Wisconsin. Miss Tilock supervised the clogging classes this year.

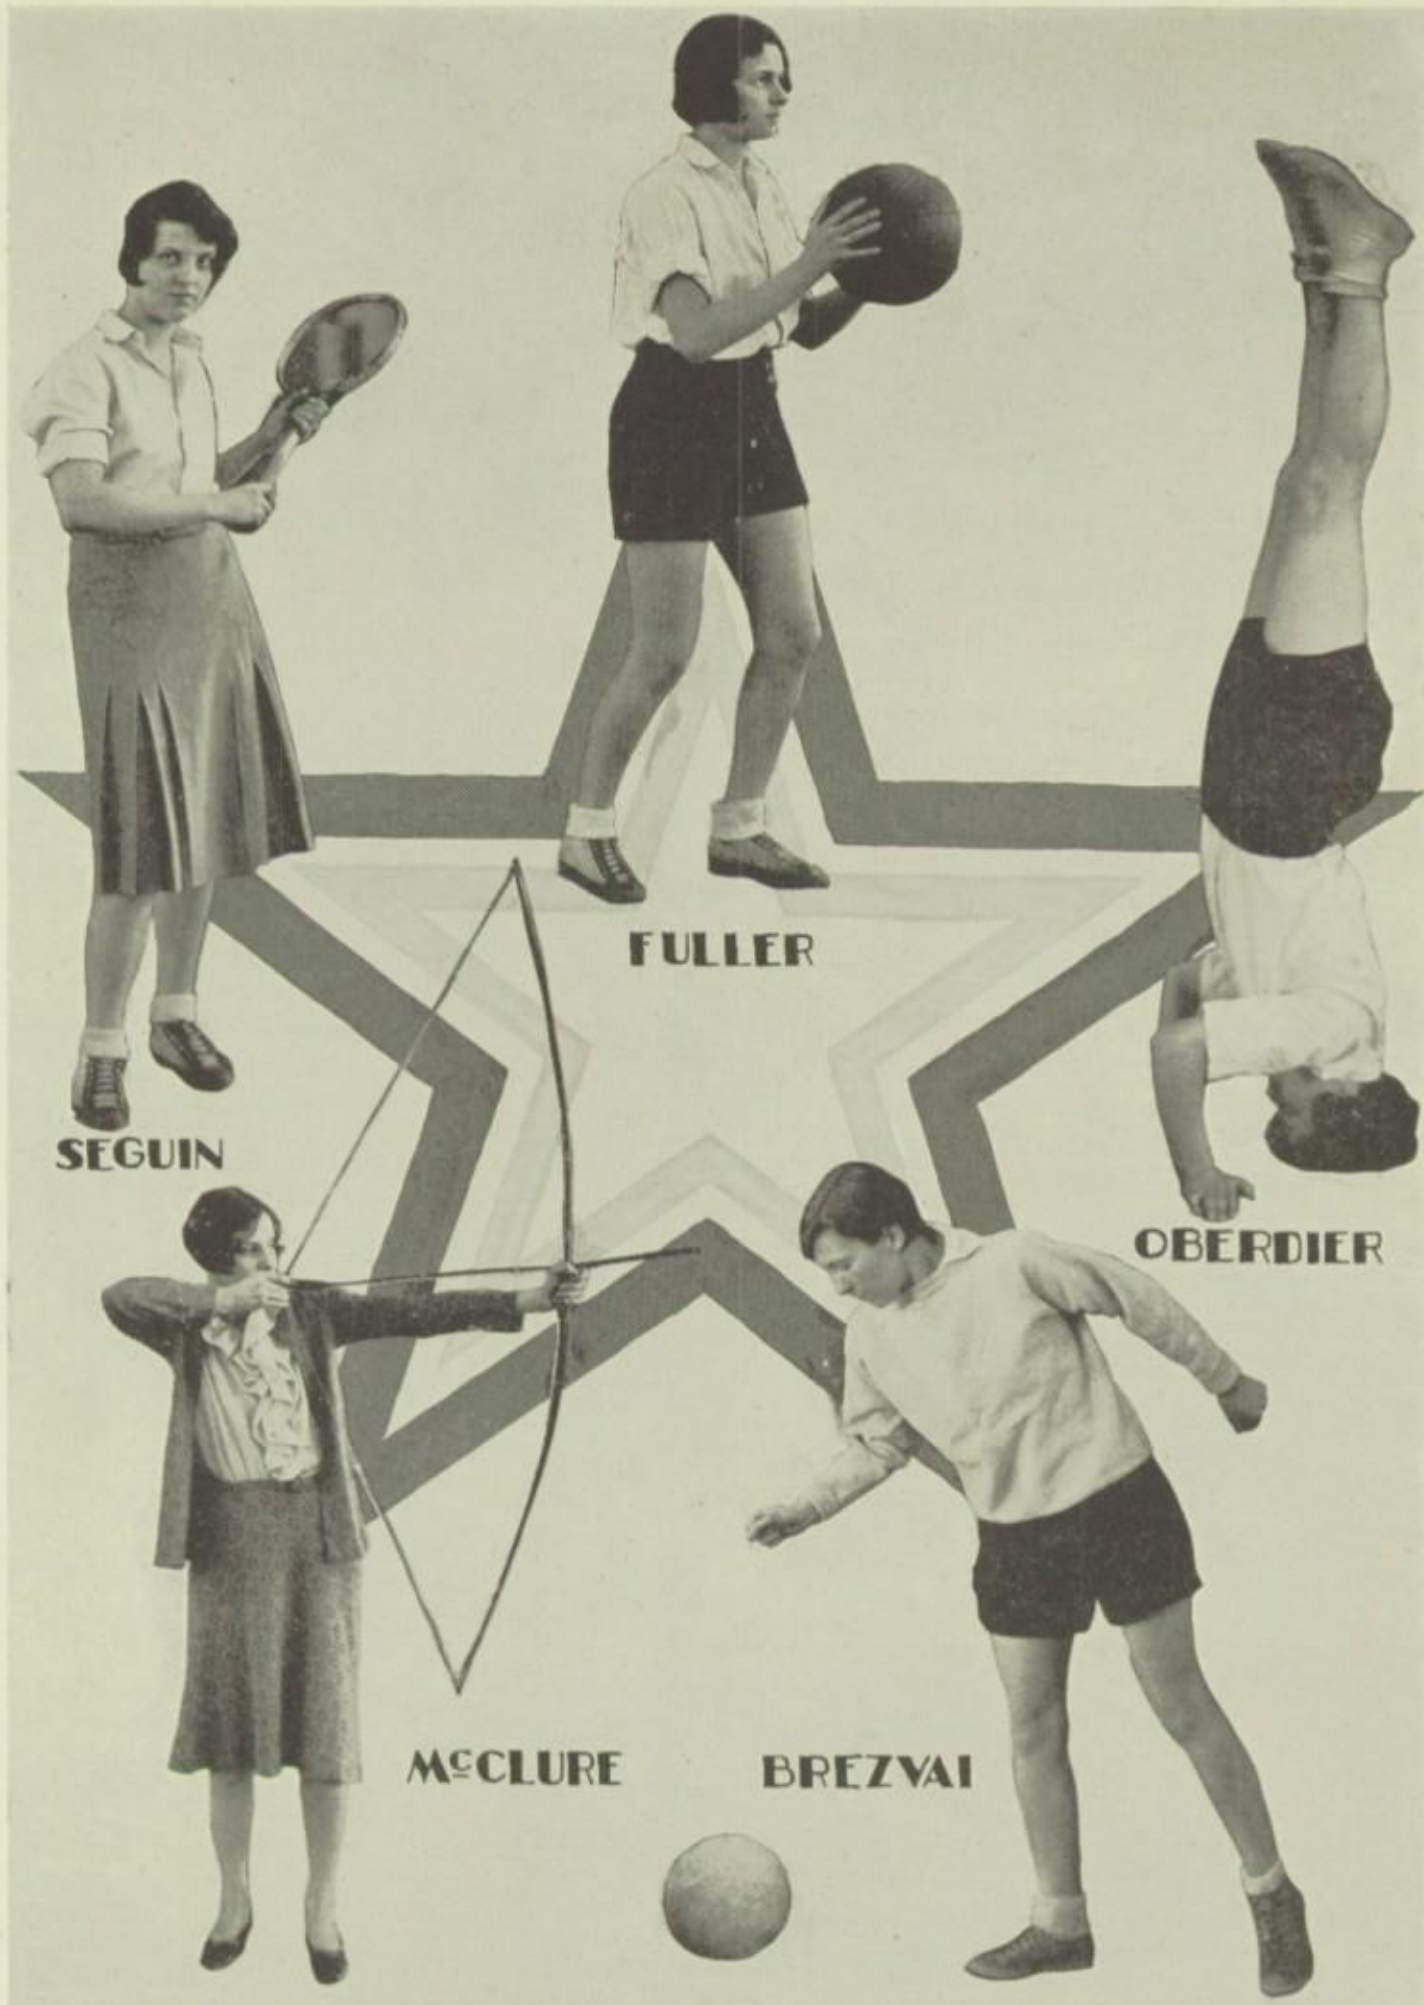

Together both teachers combined their efforts in teaching the girls basketball, tennis, baseball, tumbling, swimming, soccer, hockey, and golf.

The Girls' Athletic Association

The Girls' Athletic Association is one of the popular organizations of Waite High School. Almost every girl is interested in some sport, and the Girls' Athletic Association provides an opportunity to enter a special class for that sport and to enjoy the healthful recreation of her choice.

Girls who enjoy all sports, work for points so that they earn a "W". Those who have the highest number of points are awarded their letters in the spring. A "W" is the big aim of the girls in the Athletic League.

First Row: McVicker, Ehram, Pasan, Galamber, Bertok, Bauya, Mesteller, Frederick, Arsag, Kuper, Lutife, Tipton.

Fifth Row: Molnar, Navarre, Matina, Hipkiss, Long, Rihasek, Bolton, Clipton, Shalhoup, Williams, McDonald, Oldham.

PURPLE AND GOLD

In order to get points for a "W", a girl must have achieved:

A passing average in each subject.

Correction of all physical defects—of eyes, ears, nose, throat, teeth, etc.

Consistent good sportsmanship, evinced daily.

Points may also be gained through:

Extra Activities.....	100 points
Health Habits	150 points
Sports	250 points
Physical Ability Tests	200 points

Each girl must take part in one sport each season:

FALL	WINTER	SPRING
Soccer	Basketball	Baseball
Hockey	Clogging	Track
Archery	Tumbling	Tennis
Volley Ball		Golf
		Swimming

This year Waite had a girls' life saving class. The following girls passed their tests:

The Girl's "W" Club has had a very prosperous year. It has now received its charter and all girls who have received W's may join. This year the girls presented their first mass meeting, the Friday before the Woodward game. An afternoon dance and candy sale made possible the purchase of the pins "W" girls now wear so proudly.

At each meeting of the "W" Club, a girl gave an interesting account of some sport. All the girls have profited by coming to the meetings, and enjoyed, too, such hilarious fun as comes with a "W" Girls' weekend.

- 6:30 Morning dip. Br-r-r-, the water was cold.
- 7:00 Last call for breakfast. Bacon and eggs.
- 9:00 Cabin inspection.
- 9:30 Tennis. What a close game!
- 10:30 Swim. The water was fine.
- 12:00 Lunch and an afternoon spent as individual taste dictated.
- 4:30 Swimming.
- 5:30 Dinner.
- 10:30 All lights out.

What was that all about? None other than the "W" Girls' Week-end at Reno Beach.

Miss Gottshall, Miss Tilock, Miss McClure, and Mrs. Anderson were the chaperones.

Scott (Stonewall) Pheils held general attention when he wore knickers one day.

PURPLE AND GOLD

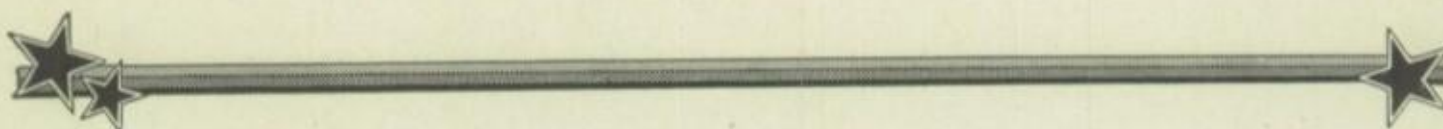

- 22 CONVERSION OF ST. PAUL
But not our Paul Anspach! No, we can't believe it.
- 24 GOLD DISCOVERED IN CALIFORNIA, 1848.
Bob Wertz has just heard of it, but he's packing now.
- 27 LEWIS CARROLL, PEN NAME OF CHARLES L. DODGSON, AUTHOR OF THE IMMORTAL NONSENSE STORIES, "ALICE IN WONDERLAND", ETC.
For nonsensical stories, listen to Ralph Siek review "Gulliver's Travels" to a group of underclassmen.
- SAMUEL GOMPERS, LABOR LEADER, 1850-1924.
Joe Gall, I. W. W. leader (I Won't Work).
- 30 WALTER JOHANNES DAMROSCH, MUSICIAN, CONDUCTOR OF SYMPHONY ORCHESTRAS, INTERPRETER OF MUSIC TO THE RADIO PUBLIC, 1862-
Interpretation would be superfluous when Mark Davis toots his own horn.

February

- 3 HORACE GREELEY, PIONEER JOURNALIST, EDITOR OF NEW YORK TRIBUNE, 1811-1872.
Carleton Greeley, identity unknown, sometimes wants to go west, but his Ford won't let him.
- 6 SIR HENRY IRVING, ENGLISH ACTOR, 1838-1905.
Sir Henry's life must have affected Max Conrad, for he is another great actor—simply immense.
- 7 SIR THOMAS MORE, LORD CHANCELLOR TO HENRY VIII,
AUTHOR OF "UTOPIA," 1478-1535.
And to think he had never seen Utopia! Ah, what could be more
Utopian than Miss Gibson's home room?
- MILLARD FILLMORE, 1800-1874, THIRTEENTH PRESIDENT
"To 'fillmore' dates one has to be a millionaire," remarks William Richardson sadly.
- 8 JOHN RUSKIN, ENGLISH SOCIAL REFORMER, 1819-1900.
WILLIAM TECUMSEH SHERMAN, UNION GENERAL, 1820-1891.
The fellow who said "War is hell!" never stayed after school for Mr.
Klag. Yes, Harry Davies is still making up hours.
- 11 THOMAS ALVA EDISON, INVENTOR, ELECTRICAL INVESTI-GATOR, CREATOR OF THE INCANDESCENT LAMP AND THE PHONOGRAPH, 1847-
If you have no talking machine, Kate Rudolph will do.
John Soncrant, famed assistant in the Edison laboratories, announces an invention which will take the angles out of geometry.
- 12 ABRAHAM LINCOLN, 16TH PRESIDENT OF U. S., 1809-1865.
CHARLES ROBERT DARWIN, ENGLISH BIOLOGIST, AUTHOR
"ORIGIN OF THE SPECIES"—EVOLUTION, 1809-1882.
Bob Turner monkeys around and is late again.
- 14 ST. VALENTINE'S DAY.
Believe it or not, Paul Weaver still hands out valentines.
- 15 U. S. BATTLESHIP MAINE WAS BLOWN UP IN HAVANA HARBOR, 1898.

PURPLE AND GOLD

According to latest reports, Leslie Miller often explodes in the chemistry laboratory.

- 18 LOUIS COMFORT TIFFANY, ARTIST, DECORATIVE DESIGNER, WORKER IN STAINED GLASS, INVENTOR OF TIFFANY GLASS, 1848-

Louis Tiffany invented Tiffany glass for use in Woolworth's diamonds, invariably purchased by James Crooks.

- 20 JOSEPH JEFFERSON, ACTOR, FAMOUS FOR HIS PERFORMANCE IN "RIP VAN WINKLE" AND SHERIDAN'S "THE RIVALS", 1829-1915.

Orlo Portman, of baseball fame, sleeps for twenty minutes in geometry class and calls it a day.

- 21 JOHN HENRY, CARDINAL NEWMAN, AUTHOR OF "LEAD, KINDLY LIGHT," 1801-1890.

Bayley Chapman probably hummed the same hymn as he strolled into Mr. Mathias' room without an excuse.

- 22 GEORGE WASHINGTON, 1732-1799.
SIR ROBERT BADEN POWELL, BRITISH GENERAL, FOUNDER OF BOY SCOUTS IN ENGLAND, 1857-1908.

But we don't know who founded the Three Musketeers, Charles Hennigan, Robert Julius, and Gordon Michael.

- 26 WILLIAM FREDK. CODY, "BUFFALO BILL", FRONTIERSMAN AND SCOUT, 1845-1917.

"Buffalo Bill" shot many bulls, but Walter Beck could make him look like a novice.

- 27 HENRY WADSWORTH LONGFELLOW, 1807-1882, has a rival in Gayle Vobbe, who declares he likewise is a poet because his feet are long fellows.

- 29 LEAP YEAR, IN YEAR CONTAINING 366 DAYS.

Alice Wynn proposed to Dick Whitacre—proposed that he "move on."

March

- 3 ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL, INVENTOR OF THE TELEPHONE, AN EARLY TEACHER OF THE DEAF—PROMOTOR OF EDUCATION FOR THEM, 1847-1922.

And that telephone gave rise to the saying, "There are three ways of spreading the news—telephone, telegraph, tell-a-woman"—particularly if that woman be Marguerite Howard.

- 4 INAUGURATION DAY, ONCE IN 4 YEARS.

Once every four years! Bradfield McThena has his assignment prepared.

- 12 GENERAL POST OFFICE ESTABLISHED BY CONGRESS, 1789.

Unsats flood the mail. Bob Siemans launches a movement to employ student mailmen at all rush seasons.

- 21 VERNAL EQUINOX—THE BEGINNING OF SPRING.

Gayle Vobbe formally initiates the wearing of golf knickers.

- 23 PATRICK HENRY DELIVERED HIS FAMOUS SPEECH CONTAINING THE CHALLENGE, "GIVE ME LIBERTY OR GIVE ME DEATH!"

Gertrude Onnenga, inspired purely by patriotic fervor, "bummed" that day.

PURPLE AND GOLD

- 31 FIRST TREATY BETWEEN U. S.—JAPAN SIGNED IN 1854.
Robert McGeorge solemnly promises to do his English every night.

April

- 2 HANS CHRISTIAL ANDERSEN, DANISH WRITER OF FAIRY AND FOLK TALES. 1805-1875.
Leslie Miller tried to explain to Frances Lederhaus how a tiny lace-edged hanky bearing the initials P. D. found its way into his car.
- 3 EDWARD EVERETT HALE, AUTHOR OF "THE MAN WITHOUT A COUNTRY." 1822-1909.
Rivalling "The Man Without a Country" on the Book List of the Month is "The Man Without an Assignment," a novel of the confession type by Robert Eisman.
- 6 PEARY REACHED THE NORTH POLE, 1909
U. S. DECLARED WAR ON GERMANY, 1917
Alice Richter gave Bud Siek "the cold shoulder and the icy stare."
- 13 THOMAS JEFFERSON, THIRD PRESIDENT, AUTHOR OF DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE AND FOUNDER OF U. OF VA., 1743-1826.
Roy Textor signed the Declaration: "My father wrote this excuse."
- 16 WILBUR WRIGHT (1867-1912) WITH HIS BROTHER ORVILLE, DESIGNER AND PERFECTER OF AIRPLANES.
Alice Wynn got all "up in the air" over her leading man.
- 23 WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE, APRIL 23, 1564—APRIL 23, 1616.
In solemn observance of the day, Geneva Raley painfully memorized this passage from the great Shakespeare, stage directions and all:
(Wistfully)
"Happy little moron!
Doesn't give a damn."
(Still more wistfully)
"Wish I were a moron!"
(With an air of awful discovery)
"Gosh!—p'raps I am !!!"
- 25 GUGLIELMO MARCONI, 1874—ITALIAN ELECTRICAL ENGINEER, INVENTOR OF WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.
Invention challenged by Flo N. and John L., experts and co-efficients in the transmission of speechless glances.

May

- 5 ARBOR DAY, USUALLY.
Ken Holland draped himself just like an arbor over Marthabelle's locker.
- 9 RICHARD EVELYN BYRD, FIRST TO ACCOMPLISH THE FLIGHT OVER THE SOUTH POLE, 1926.
Learning that Aviator Byrd was hunting a successor to his mascot Igloo, Robert Uphoff gritted his teeth in determination, rented a dog costume from Mr. Faust, and applied for the position of Byrd dog.
- 13 JAMESTOWN, VA. SETTLED 1607, UNDER LEADERSHIP OF

PURPLE AND GOLD

CAPT. JOHN SMITH.

"Look out, gang, a massacre!" howled Bill Matile as Mary Wharff began putting on the war paint.

- 15 FIRST REGULAR AIR MAIL SERVICE IN THE WORLD INAUGURATED BY U. S. GOVERNMENT, 1918.

But the private air mail route across the aisle of 214 has operated for a greater term of years than that.

- 18 PEACE DAY?

No peace here!

- 21 AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF RED CROSS FOUNDED, 1881;
CLARA BARTON ELECTED PRESIDENT.

CHARLES AUGUST LINDBERGH MADE FIRST NON-STOP FLIGHT FROM N. Y. TO PARIS, 1927, FLYING 3610 MILES IN 33½ HOURS.

Roger Bell, on the strength of Lindbergh's achievement, takes a day off.

- 24 FIRST PUBLIC DEMONSTRATION OF TELEGRAPH, 1844.

Margaret Voit refused to send a telegram in public today. The clerk across the counter was too good looking, she said, and she hated to hurt his feelings by writing "Jack, darling" under his very eyes.

- 30 MEMORIAL DAY

Gene Everett announces that he is about to make public a new scheme by which the length of Memorial Day will be increased by arithmetical progression until eventually we shall celebrate a perpetual Memorial Day.

June

- 7 SECOND SUNDAY IN JUNE, CHILDREN'S DAY.

Jane Knisely was seen on her way to church with several of the neighbor children, Johnny Search, Preston Meeker, and Genie Speaker.

JUNE, AFTER ALL, IS THE MONTH FOR BATTLES. WE HAVE BEEN BRIBED TO KEEP PRIVATE THE LIST OF DUELLERS WHO SEEK OUT A SOLITARY SPOT AROUND THE CORNER AND PITCH IN, BUT WE INCLUDE HERE A LIST THAT SHOULD PROVE OUR POINT:

6-10 The American Marines victorious at Belleau Wood, 1918.

17 Battle of Bunker Hill, 1775.

18 Battle of Waterloo, 1815.

24 Battle of Bannockburn, 1314, for the independence of Scotland.

25 Battle of Big Horn, Montana, 1876—General Custer defeated by the Indians.

JUNE IS THE MONTH, TOO, OF THESE NO LESS FATAL FIRST ENCOUNTERS OF HISTORICAL CONSEQUENCES:

Harry Turner - Maxine Walser

Gayle Vobbe - Jeanne Forrest

Bob Wertz - Geneva Raley

Russ Morse - Marcella Withrow

Willie Sorgess - Frances Lederhaus

Russell Meacham - Blanche Palmer

Gordon Thayer - Kathryn Minier

Sid Douglas - Ruth Krieger

Jack Fisher - Margaret Voit

John Leedy - Florence Neuderfer

Bud Siek - Alice Richter

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thomas

Howard Boggs - Helen Stipes

Keith Davis - Helen Fuller

Russell Tipton - Louise Garbe

Harry Davis - Betty Kern

Walter Murphy - Sis Siek

Joe Papp - Marian Michael

PURPLE AND GOLD

Larry McCreery – Mary Wharff
Ken Markley – Max Cross
Bob McGeorge – Margaret Rummel
Elwood Buffington – Donna Strouse
“Dutch” Ondrus – Lucille Luce

Bayley Chapman – Sue Sherer
George Stoddard – Beulah Schindler
Burton Weeber – Evelyn Hague
Gordon Michael – Ava Mae Sands
Robert Siemans – Leota Bowland
Norman Zilles – Kathryn Keesecker

July

- 4 INDEPENDENCE DAY
“Chuck” Jones popped off in the usual explosive manner.
- 8 JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, 1839-, GAVE OUT DIMES IN HONOR OF THE EVENT.
Dale Heffner tried to put quicksilver on a penny to make people believe it was a dime. In training, that lad!
- 29 BIRTHDAY OF BENITO MUSSOLINI, 1883, AND THE KAISER, DICTATORS.
Earl Kaiser, of course.
- 30 HENRY FORD, 1863-
Tipton celebrated the 68th anniversary of his “car.”

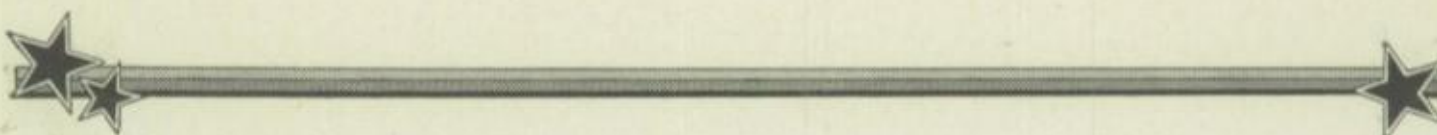

August

- 6 ALFRED, LORD TENNYSON, 1809-1892, “SEARCH FOR HOLY GRAIL.”
Max Conrad began his search for the “Last Chord.”
- 10 HERBERT CLARK HOOVER, 1874-
Wayne Cable, after taking his girl friend out to dinner, declared that the depression had just begun.
- 14 JOHN GALSWORTHY, 1867. AUTHOR OF “STRIFE.”
Kate Minier and Gordon Thayer had words.
- 18 SETH THOMAS, 1785-1859, MANUFACTURER OF CLOCKS.
The Krieger clock said three-thirty, but Sid’s watch hands pointed to one.
- 23 OLIVER HAZARD PERRY, 1785-1819, HERO OF THE BATTLE OF LAKE ERIE.
John Perry fought a hazardous battle trying to get a life preserver on.
- 29 OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES, 1809-1894, AUTHOR OF “THE WONDERFUL ONE-HOSS SHAY.”
By a miracle, Mr. Brown, hitching a wagon to his Star, managed to get it safely home to his own back yard.

September

- 12 HENRY HUDSON ENTERED THE RIVER THAT BEARS HIS NAME IN 1607.
And so did Miss Griffith, Miss Roache, Miss Burns, and Miss Butler, steaming home from European vacation expeditions. But having at one time all owned or ridden in Fords and having a strong respect for the name Henry, they unanimously declined to re-name the river after themselves. “After all, Henry was here first,” they exclaimed modestly.

PURPLE AND GOLD

- 15 JAMES FENIMORE COOPER, 1789-1851, FAMOUS CREATOR OF BACKWOODS CHARACTERS.

However, it remains for future generations to set down on paper such immortal characters as Joe Schramek and "Woody" Morton.

- 17 WASHINGTON ISSUED HIS "FAREWELL ADDRESS."

Does Wilbur Sarvis ever give a "Farewell Address" in oral expression?

October

- 3 MILES STANDISH DIED, 1656.

Ed Patke believes in "speaking for himself"—and he still lives.

- 4 MICHAEL IDVORSKY PUPIN, 1858-, FAMOUS FOR HIS "FROM IMMIGRANT TO INVENTOR," AN AUTOBIOGRAPHY.

Also Roger Bell, "From Freshman to Senior (in Eight Years)."

- 6 WILLIAM TYNDALE, 1536, ENGLISH REFORMER AND TRANSLATOR OF THE BIBLE.

Miss Butler, first to translate Geraldine Creighton's French-to-English sentences.

- 9 FIRE PREVENTION DAY.

- 12 COLUMBUS DAY.

Paul Anspach, eminent banker, says, "After all, it was the prospect of these extra bank holidays that lured me on to the fatal job of bank president."

- 16 NOAH WEBSTER, 1758-1843.

Noah's publishers seek to restrain the family of Thomas Parsons from renting him out by the week as a walking dictionary. Sales of the good old Webster's Unabridged have dropped off sharply.

- 24 ST. RAPHAEL THE ARCHANGEL, WHO BROUGHT TO SHEPHERDS "GOOD TIDINGS OF GREAT JOY" THE FIRST CHRISTMAS MORNING.

Miss Cowell, in somewhat the same spirit, announced there was no assignment for the next day.

- 27 THEODORE ROOSEVELT, 1858-1919, PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, WHO WROTE AND LIVED "THE STRENUOUS LIFE".

Pauline Duffield says she has it all over Roosevelt—dodging her devoted admirers.

November

- 1 BENVENUTO CELLINI, 1500-1571. HIS AUTOBIOGRAPHY IS ONE OF THE WORLD'S MASTERPIECES OF LITERATURE.

Earl Michael thinks Wilda Dunn's autobiography would be more than a masterpiece; it would be a riot.

- 2 DANIEL BOONE, 1734-1820, PIONEER SCOUT—ONE OF THE GREATEST.

Ken Markley—one of the best.

- 7 MME. CURIE, CO-DISCOVERER OF RADIUM.

Leota Bowland and Ruth Krieger co-discovered the gas in bromine.

- 11 ARMISTICE DAY. WORLD WAR CAME TO AN END.

Marjorie Overmeyer spoke to Ray Monto.

PURPLE AND GOLD

- 25 ANDREW CARNEGIE, BENEFactor OF LIBRARIES.
Ralph Hone gave a single cent to charity with the virtuous air of one parting from his last penny.
- 30 JOHN BUNYAN, AUTHOR OF "PILGRIM'S PROGRESS."
But Pilgrim's journey was not half as faint as our progress from first floor to the fourth, drawn onward and upward by heavenly aromas.

December

- 2 THE MONROE DOCTRINE WAS FIRST ENUNCIATED.
"We would consider any attempt on the part of foreign nations to extend their system of influence to any portion of this hemisphere as dangerous to our peace and safety."
Miss Gibson's Vergil class works under a similar doctrine.
- 12 WASHINGTON D. C. BECAME THE PERMANENT HOME OF THE U. S. GOVERNMENT.
The Waite auditorium becomes the permanent home of the cast of "The Tightwad."
- 18 STRADIVARIUS, ITALIAN MASTER OF VIOLIN CONSTRUCTION, BORN.
Maybe Ken Holland can't make violins, but he can make 'em talk.
- 25 CHRISTMAS DAY
WASHINGTON CROSSED THE DELAWARE.
And some people surprised us by coming across with presents, that scorching red necktie presented to Warren Keith by Ken, f'r instance.
- 29 BIRTHDAY, CHAS. GOODYEAR, 1800-1860, INVENTOR OF THE PROCESS OF VULCANIZING RUBBER.
Newspapers carry details of the gigantic rubber-heel order placed by Miss Kahnweiler for Russell Tipton, Walter Neubert, Jay Corbin, and Gerald Welling. Librarians are footing the expense, and with this, it's time we were gumshoeing out, for
- 31 BIRTHDAY OF JOHN WYCLIF, FIRST TO TRANSLATE THE BIBLE INTO ENGLISH
Reminds us that tomorrow's the New Year, and we'll have to start all over again translating sense into nonsense.

PURPLE AND GOLD

The Total Eclipse of Intelligence

Hysterical shrieks and wails issued from the rest room on second floor. There sat Miss Rees among a coterie of kindred faculty spirits, tears coursing copiously down their cheeks as she read aloud with pathos and feeling. "It all sounds so n-n-natural!" wept one. They were obviously near prostration. I looked closer. "Boners," read the title; "by Dr. Seuss;" "The Viking Press, 1931." Answers to examination questions, they were, and rare ones, displaying amazing imaginative quality and unexpected literary freedom. Here are some of the most affecting passages:

- "In the United States people are put to death by elocution."
- "The Esquimaux are God's frozen people."
- "Henry Ford invented perpetual motion."
- "All brutes are imperfect animals. Man alone is a perfect beast."
- "In Christianity, a man can have only one wife. This is called monotony."
- "The great flood was sent because of the large number of dirty people."
- "An epistle is the wife of an apostle."
- "Who was sorry when the Prodigal Son returned?" "The fatted calf."
- "A deacon is the lowest kind of a Christian."
- "The greatest miracle of the Bible is when Joshua told his son to stand still and he obeyed him."
- "Gravity was discovered by Isaac Walton. It is chiefly noticeable in the autumn when the apples are falling off the trees."
- "To germinate is to become a naturalized German."
- "A vacuum is an empty space where the Pope lives."
- "Climate lasts all the time, but weather only a few days."
- "A blizzard is the inside of a fowl."
- "The spinal column is a bunch of bones down your back to show feeling."
- "A cat is a quadruped, the legs, as usual, being at the four corners."
- "An antidote is a funny story you have heard before."
- "The letters M. D. signify mentally deficient."
- "A goblet is a male turkey."
- "Ambiguity means telling the truth when you don't mean to."
- "A compliment is when you say something to another which he and we know is not true."
- "Matrimony is a place where souls suffer for a time on account of their sins."
- "Milton wrote Paradise Lost; then his wife died and he wrote Paradise Regained."
- "Homer wrote the Oddity."
- "Shakespeare lived at Windsor with his merry wives."
- "Ambiguity means having two wives living at the same time."
- "Ali Baba means being away when the crime was committed."
- "The Complete Angler is another name for Euclid because he wrote all about angles."
- "Shakespeare wrote tragedies, comedies, and errors."
- "Transparent means something you can see through, for instance, a key-hole."
- "An appendix is a portion of a book, which nobody yet has discovered any use of."

PURPLE AND GOLD

The Total Eclipse of Intelligence--Cont.

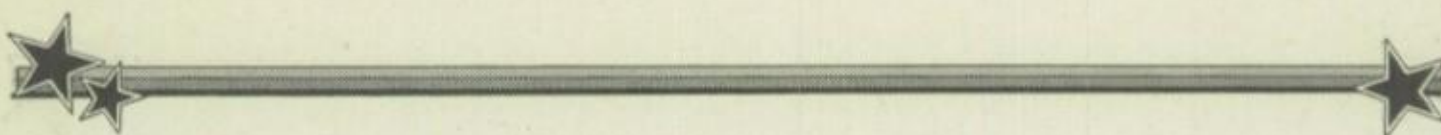

"Double dealing is when you buy something wholesale and sell it retail."
"The first man who went to the Crusades was Robinson Crusoe."
"Raleigh died in James I's reign and started smoking."
"The President has a cabinet in order to keep his china in it."
"The Stoics were the disciples of Zero, and believed in nothing."
"Geometry teaches us to bisex angels."
"Average means something that hens lay eggs on."
"A polygon is a dead parrot."
"A polygon is a man who has many wives."
"A grass widow is the wife of a vegetarian."
"People go to Africa to hunt rhinostriches."
"Persian cats are the chief industry of Persia, hence the word, purr."
"Quinine is the bark of a tree; canine is the bark of a dog."
"Syncopation is emphsais on a note that is not in the piece."
"A monologue is a conversation between two people, such as a man and his wife."

Inspired, the Waite faculty are beginning a collection of their own, with this nucleus:

"Hieroglyphics was an Egyptian king."
"The Kaiser was one of the leaders at the peace conference."
"Al Capone was one of the unifiers of Italy."
"By Yankee imperialism we mean the United States acquiring land—like the Carribbean Sea."
"Sinn Fein was a Chinese general."
"The Rosetta stone was a jewel in the crown of an Egyptian queen."
"What is the shape of the earth?" "The earth is in very bad shape now."
"Samuel Adams deserves a place in American history because:
He was the first president of the United States and remained in this position until he was superseded by future generations."
"Boot-shaped Italy is inhabited by the bootleggers' ancestors."
Request: "Define and give an example of instinct."
Answer: "You have a lady-bug and you say to her, lady-bug, lady-bug, fly away home—your house is on fire, and she flies; that is instinct."
"An example of useful insects is one monkey scratching another monkey."
Quotation asked for: "Only the brave deserve the fair."
Answer given: "Only the brave desert the fair."
"The finance committee in the House is called the Ways and Means Committee. It is a committee to figure out ways to spend the means."
Request: "What are the two great rival political parties called?"
Answer: "If the republicans are in power the democrats call them grafters."
Request: "What is a pocket veto?"
Answer: "If the President doesn't want to sign a bill he can put it in the drawer in his desk or his pocket."
Request: "On the Great Lakes why is the westbound freight rate lower than the eastbound?"
Answer: "Because the distance is shorter that way."
"Two defects of the eye are: 1. cock-eyed, 2. cross-eyed."

Frances Lederhaus: "I wonder where the bugs go in the winter."

Bill Sorgen: "Search me."

Frances: "Oh, no, I just wanted to know."

Mrs. Allen: "What was the greatest struggle Burns had to overcome?"

Margaret Jewett (just having received a life-saving pin) "His early death."

Burton Weeber and Howard Towle were arguing over the gender of a train.

Soon Howard saw a train coming, and sure enough it was a mail train.

Mr. Leach: "Why was Columbus so anxious to discover a new world?"

Joe Papp: "I think he was looking for a place to park."

Mother: "That was greedy of you to eat little sister's share of pie."

Paul Sonerant: "You told me always to take her part."

Editor: "We can't accept this poem. It isn't verse at all; merely an escape of gas."

Aspiring Emille McCormack: "Ah! I see; something wrong with the meter."

First Cannibal: "The chief has hay fever."

Second Cannibal: "Serves him right! I told him not to eat that grass widow."

Visitors: "Boy, look at that dumb bunch over there."

Howard Boggs: "Sh! They're Seniors."

Kate Rudolph: "Big."

Teacher: "Well, give me a word containing this stem and use it in a sentence."

Kate: "I like magpies."

The doctor rang the bell at the door of the mansion, and after a short while the butler appeared.

"Tell your master the doctor is here," ordered the physician.

But the pompous butler shook his head.

"The master is in great pain, sir, and he is receiving nobody."

He's so dumb that he thinks that house of correction is where the proof-reader works.

A boy left the farm and got a job in the city. Wanting to impress his brother with his new life, he wrote:

"Thursday we autoed out to the Country Club, where we golfed until dark. Then we motored to the beach and week-ended."

But his brother on the farm refused to be impressed, and wrote back:

"Yesterday we buggied to town and baseballed all the afternoon. Today we muled out to the cornfield and gee-hawed until sundown. Then we suppered. After that we staircased to our room and bedsteaded till the clock fived."

Old Maid: "Has the canary bird had its bath?"

Servant: "Yes, he has, mum. You can come in now."

Miss Howard: "If you don't behave better, I'll ask your father to come to see me."

Jane Kniseley: "You had better not. He's a doctor and charges five dollars a visit."

Whatever trouble Adam had,
No man in days of yore,
Could say when he had told a joke,
"I've heard that one before."

Miss Gibson (trying to explain to her Latin class the difference between "see" and "look at") "When you look at something you see it, but when you see something, you don't always look at it. For instance, you see this page of Latin but you don't look at it, or you wouldn't make so many mistakes."

A man by the name of Burst had three children—John Wood Burst, Nellie May Burst, and Charles Will Burst. According to the latest census report, all three are living still.

Bob Shafer (in Retina Staff meeting) "I make a motion that the entertainment committee be dissolved."
Ray Monto (dryly) "You mean cremated, don't you?"

Larry McCreery: "What was that awful noise that I heard last night in the next room to mine?"
Russ Tipton: "That was me falling asleep."

Miss Nelson: "What is the plural of child?"
George Stoddard: "Twins."

Mr. Steiner: "I'm tempted to give you a zero for that recitation."
Gilbert Ladd: "Yield not to temptation."

Coach Collins: "Well, well, how do you find yourself these cold mornings?"
Homer Cowell: "Oh, I just throw back the covers, and there I am!"

Miss Cowell: "Now, class, I hope you have a good time over the vacation and come back with lots of new, brilliant ideas about your work."
Retina Class: "Same to you."

Mr. Klag (surprised by a bull when taking a short cut to the station) "By Jove! I believe I shall catch that train after all."

Marge Jewett: "There's an awful rumbling in my stomach—like a cart going over a cobblestone street."

Ann Schemenauer: "It's probably some of that truck you ate for dinner."

Judge: "How far were you from this spot when these cars collided?"

John Soncrant: "Twenty-two feet and nine inches."

Judge: "How do you know it was exactly that distance?"

John Soncrant: "Because I measured it, thinking some fool might ask me the distance."

Russ Tipton says: "It is easy to identify the owner of the car: he is the one who, after you pull the door shut, always opens it again and slams it harder."

Max Conrad: "Been doing any exercise lately, Scottie?"

Scott Pheils: "I should juth I have! And I'm tho thwong now that I can hardly draw on a thigawette without inhaling it!"

Father Rike: "Did the man have a bill?"

Radiant Ella: "No. Just a plain nose."

Lester Kuntz came in crying and holding his head in his hands.

"What fell on your head?" we asked. "I did," he sobbed.

Employer: "John, I wish you would not whistle at your work."

John Soncrant: "I wasn't working, sir; only whistling."

"Help your wife," says John Leedy, the famous domestic expert; "when she mops the floor, mop the floor with her."

Last year I asked her to be my wife and she gave me a decidedly negative reply, so to get even I married her mother. Then my father married the girl.

When I married the girl's mother, the girl became my daughter, and my father married my daughter, so he became my son. When my father married my daughter she became my mother. If my father is my son and my daughter is my mother, who am I? My mother's mother is my wife and must be my grandmother, and being my grandmother's husband, I must be my own grandfather. And there you are.

Father: "Betty, I want you to come from the party at a reasonable hour—and not with the milkman."

Betty Kern: "But, father, how absurd! He won't be there."

"Oi've come to tell ye, Mrs. O'Malley, that yer husband met with an accident."

"And what is it now?" wailed Mrs. O'Malley.

"He was overcome by the heat, mum."

"What? Overcome by the heat in January?"

"Yes, mum. He fell into the furnace over to the foundry."

Little Willie pointing at his sister's sweetheart, "Harry Turner kicked me yesterday, but I got even with him, you bet your life. I mixed quinine in my sister's face powder."

Sources of Comfort and Leisure

Every electrical outlet in your home is a potential source of comfort and leisure.

There you will find all of the energy needed to do your tiresome, beauty-consuming household tasks. . . . the sweeping, the washing, the ironing, the scrubbing and waxing of your floors, and many other things.

Learn to use electricity. Visit our Main Store and learn of the many ways it can help you.

Any woman who does any task electricity can do is working for a few cents a day.

Dick Wickenden: "Breathlessly running in front of a stranger, 'Have you lost a half a dollar?'"

Stranger: "Yes, I believe I have. Did you find one?"

Dick: "O! No! I just want to find out how many have been lost today. Yours makes twenty-three."

"By order of the selectmen, cows grazing by the roadside or riding bicycles on the sidewalk is hereby forbidden."

Mr. Mathias has posted the following bulletin in his room:

"Any student desiring to attend the funeral of a near relative must notify me on the day previous to the game."

Boss: "No; we have all the men we need."

Harry Schwab: "Seems like you could take one more, the little bit of work I'd do."

It's downright pitiful to see a young couple sitting on the porch, slowly dying of thirst, and no auto to take them to the drug store fully a block away.

Dentist (to patient who is opening his purse): "No, don't bother to pay me in advance."

Warren Keith: "I'm not. I was only counting my money before you give me gas."

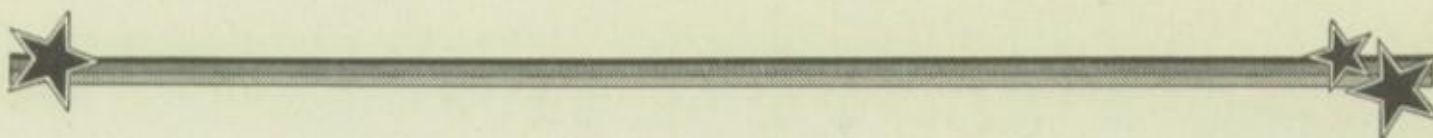

Pauline Duffield: "What are you going to do with this month's allowance?"

Winston Leffler: Don't know whether to take you out again or buy a roadster."

Bob Wertz: "What would Waite do, if John Sonerant decided to quit school?"

Mark Davis: "Well, Bob, Mr. Conser would automatically quit, Miss Hart would have no one to write her jokes, the Q.D.'s would have no one to make their write-ups, the students would all want to play hooky, and naturally the school would close down."

A stylized illustration of a night cityscape. The sky is a mix of dark and light greenish-grey, with large, flowing, organic shapes. A planet with horizontal stripes is positioned in the upper left. Several white stars are scattered across the sky. The city below is composed of dark, angular buildings with white rectangular windows. Two tall, thin smokestacks are visible on the left. The overall style is mid-century modern.
